Press Poland To Join 'Stop Hitler' Coalition

FRENCH SEEK WARSAW'S O.K. ON 'BLOCKADE'

Polish Government Holds Out, Wants Defense Commitments From London, Paris.

FACE ITALIAN DEMANDS

Observers See French-Italian Situation Linked to Halt New Nazi Spread.

BULLETIN

WARSAW — (AP) — The Warsaw Express Poranny, considered to be a mouthpiece of the foreign office, said today Poland would not join any international bloc. Political circles considered this as tantamount to a rejection of the British "Stop Hitler" plans.

(By Associated Press)

British and French efforts to rally "anti-aggressor" nations to halt Adolf Hitler's march to the east centered today on Poland's support.

Poland has been deaf to British entreaties without flat military commitments to assume her own defense. Her neighbor on three sides is Germany which has smashed Czechoslovakia, gained Memel and struck a broad trade bargain with Rumania.

Bank on France.

It was believed in London that France, because of the long-standing friendship with Poland, might be more likely to bring Poland to join. This, it is believed, will be a prime matter in urgent consultations expected to take place between French Premier Daladier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet.

Bonnet and President Albert Lebrun of France left for Paris after a three-day state visit to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in London.

Also confronting France was the possibility of negotiations to settle her differences with Italy. Many French observers saw a direct link between the French-Italian issue and the attempt to form a "stop Hitler" bloc.

They reasoned that Premier Mussolini was marking time to see how successful Britain and France would be and expressed belief that much further delay would indicate to Il Duce that he had chosen well in casting his lot with Hitler.

Borders All Friendly.

Nazis, meanwhile, looked at Europe's map with conviction that, for the first time since the World war, they had only friends on the immediate east, from the Baltic to the Black sea.

The fuehrer, returned to Berlin after yesterday's triumphant entry into regained Memelland and was expected soon to take a prolonged rest. Informed quarters in Berlin predicted there would be

Center of U. S. Steel Industry Still In County

Continuing its northwestern trend, the geographic center of the nation's strip and sheet steel production, while still in Richland county moved to a point northeast of Shelby, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported today.

According to its calculations, the institute said the exact "center of gravity" of the steel industry today is located on the old Dempsey farm, just northeast of Shelby.

At the close of the 1936 the geographic center was located about one mile north of Mansfield, climaxing an eastern movement in steel production from 1933. Since that time the trend has been slightly to the northwest.

Explanation of the westward shift, the institute reported, was seen in net increases in steel capacity west of the geographic center and in the abandonment since 1936 of some steel capacity east of the center of capacity, which more than offset recent increases in the total capacity of the area.

Between 1874 and 1933 the center of the industry moved steadily toward the west at an average rate of about six miles per year.

ROBBED OF $1100.

DAYTON—(U.P.)—Two men held up J. F. Gardner, tire store operator, and took a bank deposit bag containing $1130 as he was leaving his store last night.

Hear Time's Ideal Now For Water Bonds

200 at Revived Town Hall Told Low Interest Rate Assured.

Now is the most favorable time in the history of the country for Mansfield to issue bonds for improving its water distribution system, Paul M. Eliot, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, told 200 representatives of civic organizations at a Town Hall meeting last night.

"Money markets are at their lowest point right now and I predict that an issue sold at this time would not have a maximum rate of more than two per cent," Eliot asserted.

The Town Hall meeting plan was revived by the Chamber of Commerce to stimulate interest in a $600,000 proposed bond issue to rehabilitate the city's water distribution system.

Would Add Mill First Year.

Eliot said that if $800,000 in bonds were issued to finance improvements in both the water and sewer systems that it would add only one mill the first year and three-fourths of a mill for a 20-year period.

He estimated that it would cost an owner of a $5,000 property only $3.75 annually.

Herbert Slough, chairman of the chamber's fire prevention committee, told the group that Mansfield fire insurance buyers were being penalized $50,000 annually because of the lack of an adequate water supply in the city.

He said that the National Board of Fire Underwriters had degraded Mansfield from a fifth class rating to sixth class in 1934 because the city in a 10-year period preceding that time had "done nothing" to improve the water distribution system.

Slough pointed out that "fortunately Mansfield has not had any serious fires that have resulted in any loss of life," and then urged that the city prepare itself for the future "so such a thing will never happen here."

George Tatnall of Chicago, engineer for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, cited the board's 1934 report which severely criticized the city water distribution system.

"The report at that time showed that about 60 per cent of the water mains here were four-inch pipe,"

NAB 'PHANTOM'

Police Get $80,000 in Gems in Movieland Arrest.

VENICE, Calif.—(AP)—Detective Capt. Harry Seager said today he believed the arrest in San Francisco of Walter Graham, 40, with $80,000 in gems had ended a five-year search for the "phantom burglar of Bel-Air," whose particular prey had been the wealthy of the motion picture colony.

Seager said officers also had founds jewels "worth at least $20,000," in a Venice residence, the address of which was supplied by San Francisco police after Graham's arrest, and that Mrs. Charlotte Graham, 39, his wife, had been apprehended as she attempted to flee.

FRANK KILLS BOY, 12

GALLIPOLIS — (U.P.) — Rudy Wayne Henry, 12, son of Oakley Henry, accidentally hanged himself in their barn when he tried to frighten his younger sister, Maxine, Coroner Lewis Brown said today.

Ondov Can Stand On His Own Feet Again!

—News-Journal Photo

Michael Ondov, divinity student, who has been confined to General hospital for the past 16 months because of a broken back and paralysis which followed an auto accident, dressed up in his best bib and tucker yesterday to show The News-Journal cameraman that he can stand on his own feet once again. He took his first steps this week. Almost as proud as Michael himself are the floor nurses. Left to right they are Margaret Kisling, Jane Stoughton, Pauline Armstrong and Margaret Loesch.

$5,000 LOSS IN LAUNDRY BLAZE

Equipment Suffers Greatest Damage; Three Companies Fight Downtown Fire.

Damage, mostly to equipment, from a fire of undetermined origin which swept through the Calvert laundry, 22 East Temple court yesterday afternoon was estimated at $5,000 today by Milton O. Doolittle, the proprietor.

The blaze which was confined to the first floor of the two-story building was brought under control within half an hour by three companies of firemen under the direction of Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger. Three hose lines were laid by firemen from engine companies Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

Doolittle said that blaze was discovered by office workers at 5:15 p. m. as they prepared to leave for the day. Other employes had left several hours earlier. Damage to laundry of customers was slight, Doolittle said.

The flames confined mostly to the drying room where the fire broke out damaged electric motors that drives the machinery. Slight damage to the building was reported.

Doolittle said that the loss was partly covered by insurance and that repairs were under way today and that service would be maintained without interruption.

FLAYS OUSTERS

Lawmaker Says Pension Dismissals in Ohio 'False Economy.'

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Branding four dismissals from the Belmont county aid for the aged office as "false economy," Rep. John R. Crunelle (D-Belmont) charged today that Tom McCaw, chief of the division, intended to replace those fired with Republicans on April 1.

Bloodhounds Put On Trail Of Wyoming 'Wild Man' Killer of 4

(By Associated Press)

CODY, Wyo. — Bloodhounds were counted on today to pick up the trail of Earl Durand, 26-year-old slayer of four, who fled his mountain stronghold 40 miles north of Cody before it could be blasted with howitzer and trench mortar fire.

"I think we can pick up the trail with the hounds, said Sheriff Frank Blackburn after a 100-man posse had closed in on Durand's retreat and found him gone.

"If not, a bunch of us will stay up there until we get him," said the Park county sheriff, leader of the search for the elusive, eagle-eyed tarzan who took to the northwestern Wyoming hill country a week ago last night after killing two officers.

The bodies of Orville Linabary, 42, of Cody, and Arthur Argento, 46, of Meeteetse, Wyo., were recovered late yesterday from an exposed slope below the natural fortress in Clarksfork canon from which Durand had held possemen at bay for nearly 24 hours. The two possemen died of bullet wounds drilled in their abdomens by the sharpshooting fugitive soon after he hid in a clump of boulders and trees at the top of the slope.

Sheriff Blackburn said Durand slipped down sometime before daylight yesterday and took two rifles and a pair of shoes from his victims.

The sheriff reduced his posse to 15 or 20 picked sharpshooters today—to give the fugitive fewer targets.

Ondov Walks Again, And That's Really a Story!

Divinity Student, Paralyzed In Auto Accident, Takes First, Wobbly Steps on Legs 'Dead' 16 Months.

By JANE WILLIAMS

Thoughts of returning to school in September, of resuming his theological career at Wittenberg, were uppermost today in the mind of Michael Ondov, 25, who took his first halting, awkward steps Wednesday after a year, four months and seven days of paralysis.

Ondov was taken to General hospital on Nov. 5, 1937, more dead than alive, with a broken back, after a car in which he was riding turned over near Hayesville. He, with a group of students from Wittenberg, was en route to Cleveland for the week-end. Ondov was a student at Hamma Divinity school.

Fitted With Braces.

This week he was fitted with braces which extend from his feet to his hips, and Thursday he was placed on his feet and with the aid of nurses, made the short distance from his bed to the door of his room and back. It was a gigantic effort for the boy who has been confined to his bed for more than 16 months and whose legs have been "dead" most of that time.

The steps weren't the long, confident strides of a college boy who had been a football player, but those of a small baby that is placed on its feet for the first time. His feet had to be moved by the nurse when they got out of line—but somehow they made it to the door and back.

And that seemed a miracle to

SET FOR RUSH

Auto Club Reports Few Cars Have 1939 Licenses.

The office of the deputy registrar of motor vehicles today was planning to handle the largest last-week crowds in its history next week as the result of the small number of plates sold to date.

The largest decrease is in auto and trailer trucks, with only one-third of the number sold to date as compared with the same period last year. Passenger plates, however, were only three behind last year, but the number is low enough to indicate that there will be a constant "jam" at the registrar's office all next week. Only 3,836 passenger plates had been sold up to today.

The office will be open tomorrow until 8 p. m. and every night next week until that hour. The deadline for old plates is midnight next Friday, with no extension of time likely.

FACING PRISON

Two Convicted In Los Angeles City Job Selling Scheme.

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — Joe Shaw, brother of a recalled Los Angeles mayor, and William Cormack, an ally, faced long-prison sentences today for falsifying public records in a city job-selling scheme.

It was charged that hundreds of applicants for jobs or promotions in the police and fire departments found their only course was in "paying-off" the "bosses" to get favorable ratings on the civil service lists.

PILOT KILLED

Companion Leaps to Safety as Army Plane Crashes.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH, Md.—(INS)—Out of gasoline after being lost in a dense fog for hours, an army pursuit plane crashed near this shore resort today, killing its pilot, Lieut. Elton E. Holcombe, of Atlanta, Tex.

The 23-year-old flyer's observer, Priv. Frank Ridenour, 20, jumped to safety a few minutes before the plane spun to earth. After his parachute carried him to the ground, Ridenour quickly organized a search party, which found Holcombe's body.

'PRAY FOR ME,' AL CAPONE ASKS

One-Time Gang Czar Gets Religion, Pastor At Prison Says.

SAN PEDRO, Calif—(AP)—Religion has come into the life of Al Capone, the one-time Chicago gang czar, it was disclosed today by a Baptist minister who preached last Sunday at the government's new Terminal island prison.

Rev. Silas A. Thweatt said Capone was the first of 16 men to rise to his feet when he asked if any of them felt the need of a Savior, and was one of about 75 who signified by upraised hands that they desired his prayers.

"As prison rules forbid us from approaching more than 10 feet from the men, I could not talk with Capone about his spiritual needs," the pastor said.

SUSPECT JAILED

Letter Leads To Capture of Father of 4 In Murder Case.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Four detectives who found Vernon E. Oldaker, 43, Mineola, N. Y., five hours after their arrival here with a Chicago-postmarked letter as their only clue, returned him to New York, today as a suspect in the robbery-slaying of Miss Anna Louise McKee, 59, wealthy godmother of his four children.

Authorities said Oldaker had once boarded at the McKee home.

2 EX-CONVICTS HELD ON FAKE MONEY CHARGE

$300 in Counterfeit Bills Found on Pair Arrested by City Detectives.

TAKEN BY FEDERAL MEN

Puzzo, One of Suspects, Was Figure in News-Journal Bombing 5 Years Ago.

Two Mansfield men, both reputed underworld characters and one a figure in the bombing of The News-Journal five years ago, were held in Cleveland today for arraignment on charges of possessing counterfeit money.

The pair, Joseph Puzzo alias Joe Brizzi, 32, and Frank Nota alias Joe Rock, 44, both of 50 Columbia avenue, were arrested by Detectives Lee J. Remy and Oscar Krupp yesterday as they drove away from their home in an automobile.

The officers said they found the men in possession of $300 in counterfeit bills, including 44 $5 notes and eight $10 bills.

Taken to Cleveland.

Agents of the U. S. treasury, notified by Police Chief Meade K. Bates of the arrest, arrived here late yesterday and immediately took the men to Cleveland before they could be questioned by officers here.

Remy and Krupp said they traced several counterfeit notes which had made their appearance here several months ago to Puzzo and that they had had him under surveillance for some time. They added that Rock only recently had returned from Florida and had been staying at Puzzo's home.

While both men were declared by officers to have "long" police records, the data on Puzzo, who was the central figure in the bombing of The News-Journal in 1933, could not be found in the identification bureau today.

Both Served Time in Pen.

Puzzo, described by police as the "key man" in the bomb plot was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary in the fall of 1933 for violating his parole on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, police said.

Rock at the present is wanted by the state as a parole violator. He was sentenced to the penitentiary in February, 1936 from Columbus to serve from one to 15 years on a charge of burglary and larceny. He was paroled Dec. 30, 1937.

REAL SUMMER

Temperature's at 74 and It's Due to Go Even Higher.

It was more like July than March today as an early spring "heat wave" sent the temperature up to 74 degrees at noon for the highest mark of 1939.

Mansfielders shed their heavy clothing and started planning their gardens. The "heat wave" moved in from the west where the mercury yesterday climbed to record marks for March. Kansas City reported 84 to equal the reading at New Orleans. Cincinnati had a top of 80 yesterday, the same as Miami, Fla.

In Mansfield where the top was 68 degrees Thursday, there was every indication that the mercury would approach 80 today.

The weatherman predicted the warm weather would stay over the week-end, bringing showers Saturday.

In Jail Again

Joseph Puzzo, alias Joe Brizzi, 32, above, who was arrested here yesterday with Frank Nota, alias Joe Rock, 44, with $300 in counterfeit bills in their possession, was held in jail in Cleveland today awaiting arraignment before U. S. Commissioner B. D. Nicola. The picture of Puzzo was taken in 1933 at the time he was held in the News-Journal bombing.

HUTCHINS NEW SEC CHAIRMAN?

Youthful Chicago University President Offered, Accepts U. S. Post, Capital Hears.

(By International News Service)

(Copyright, 1939.)

WASHINGTON — Robert M. Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, has been offered and has accepted the chairmanship of the Securities and Exchange commission, made vacant through elevation of William O. Douglas to the supreme court.

Selection of Hutchins was revealed to International News Service by unimpeachable sources in the educational circles of which the Chicago university head is a member.

Announcement of Hutchins' appointment to the commission will be withheld until after the senate confirms the nomination of Douglas to the high court.

Long a staunch advocate of liberalism in the field of education, Hutchins has been a frequent supporter of New Deal reform measures, particularly those affecting finance.

Administration liberals consider him the ideal choice to fill the SEC vacancy. He say eye-to-eye with Douglas on government regulation of Wall Street and other financial marts.

Although both are 40 years of age, Douglas was a protege of Hutchins. While the latter was dean of the Yale university law

AKRON SCENE OF $200,000 BLAZE

Rubber Reclaiming Plant Ruined As Grass Fire Spreads.

AKRON—(U.P.)—Three fire companies today poured water on the ruins of the Buxbaum company's rubber reclaiming plant where an all night fire caused damage estimated at $200,000.

A group of one-story buildings, with about three acres of floor space, were destroyed. The fire was discovered at 6:31 p. m. Thursday and by 8:15 p. m. a general alarm had called all available fire-fighting appartus to the plant. Firemen from Coventry and Cuyahoga Falls were called into Akron stations to protect the rest of the city.

The fire was believed to have started outside the plant, probably from a grass blaze. It spread to a pile of scrap rubber, then to three box cars, and into the plant.

Judge Huston Opens His Own Campaign On 'Easy Divorces'

Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston made it known today that he has started his own anti-divorce campaign in Richland county.

Refusing to divorce a young Bellville couple this morning, the third divorce suit he has rejected this week, Judge Huston asserted that "This court intends to put a stop to these hasty marriages and promiscuous divorces."

A similar policy was adopted recently by H. S. Culbertson, Ashland county's new common pleas judge.

Judge Huston, who frequently is able to effect an agreement between quarreling husbands and wives before their cases come up for trial, pointed out that in a large percentage of the divorces he grants, the parties are married again within a few months.

"Usually they don't get along the second time, either, so there's no point in wrecking two families," he said.

After dismissing the petition of Mrs. Helen Oyster, 17, of Bellville, who accused her husband, Harold Oyster, 21, of neglect and cruelty, Judge Huston told them to go back and live together and attempt to "patch up their differences." Married since 1937, the couple have no children.

SHERWOOD TO FIRE WOODARD SOON, BELIEF

Welfare Director Intimates He Will File Charges If Warden Won't Quit.

CALLS 2ND CONFERENCE

Penitentiary Head to Confer With Boss Again Today; Promises Fight.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood indicated to newsmen today that he had decided to file ouster charges against J. C. Woodard, suspended warden of Ohio penitentiary, but declined a definite statement.

"I probably will not file charges today," Sherwood said. "I have not asked Woodard to resign—yet. Don't forget that 'yet'."

Meet Again Today.

The welfare director, who said "unwarranted conditions" prompted the warden's suspension, said he probably would confer with Woodard again later today and "discuss the situation."

The two conferred in Sherwood's office for 10 minutes late yesterday but neither would say what had been discussed. The 66-year-old warden did not resign, Sherwood said later.

Suspended March 2 for 30 days during an investigation of "unwarranted conditions" at the midtown prison, Woodard has indicated that he would fight ouster proceedings.

W. F. Amrine, state superintendent of corrections, has been serving as acting warden while conducting the investigation at the direction of Sherwood.

Liquor Sold, Charge.

In reports to the welfare director, Amrine said his investigation disclosed that inmates had more of less free access to sources for obtaining liquor, that gambling went on behind the prison walls, and that certain inmates were granted favors by guards.

Amrine also declared that counterfeit money had been manufactured by convicts. The acting superintendent described several pieces of material found in the prison as molds used to make the counterfeit money.

Dismissals and suspensions of several guards have resulted from the investigation so far.

WORKMAN WINS

Irish Favorite Cops Grand National; 10 Win $150,000.

AINTREE—(AP)—Workman, one of the Irish-bred favorites owned by Sir Alexander Maguire, today won the 101st Grand National Steeplechase before a crowd of more than 250,000. Capt. L. Scott Briggs' MacMoffat was second, and the highly regarded Kilstar from Dorthy Paget's stables third.

Cooleen, carrying the silks of J. V. Ranks and fourth last year, again finshed in the same position with A. Donn's Dominick's Cross fifth in a field of 37 that started.

Workman, which went to the post at the odds of 100 to 8, finished three length in front of MacMoffat after running with the leaders from the start. MacMoffat, a 25 to 1 outsider, was another 15 lengths in front of Kilstar, 8 to 1 choice.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ten ticket holders in the United States won prizes of $150,000 each today in the Irish hospital sweepstakes when Workman crossed the line first in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

SHAKES LONDON

Explosions Rock Medical Center In Britain; No Casualties.

LONDON—(INS)—A score of violent explosions and a fire in the medical store shed of the Royal Military College of Science shook a wide area around the college and Woolwich common today.

The blaze caused a number of gas cylinders to explode. The store shed was demolished.

There were no casualties.

LAWMAKER DIES

Tennessee Representative Stricken by Heart Attack at Capital.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Turneg (D., Tenn.) died unexpectedly early today of a heart attack. His wife was with him.

FRANCE TO DIG MILITARY TUBE UNDER VOSGES

Funds Marked to Drill Vital Tunnel Through Mountains in Alsace.

(By United Press)

PARIS—In speaking before the senate budget committee, Vice-Premier Camille Chautemps announced that part of this year's $10,000,000 appropriation for Alsace would be spent to dig a tunnel of great military importance through the heart of the Vosges mountains between Saint Maurice and Wesserling, northwest of Mulhausen.

Other features of this "preparedness" program include an increase in the number of highways and the building of an aviation field at Ensheim.

5 Miles in Length.

When finished, this tunnel will exceed 5 miles in length and will permit rail transports to run straight back into the hinterland 12 miles behind the Rhine defense lines. Known as the Bussang tunnel, work was started on it in 1920 by the East Railroad company, but subsequently was halted when engineers, after progressing several hundred yards, encountered a ledge of rock which was so hard that the contractors demanded more money. The East Railroad company refused, and the contract was cancelled.

Because of the lack of a tunnel, railroad lines have had to pass either to the north of the Bussang ridge, through Epinal-Strasbourg, or to the south, via Belfort-Mulhausen. Highways between these two lines, passing over the heights, are very narrow and often are impassable during winter months

A spokesman of the Public Works office told the press:

"Besides reasons of a commercial nature, military requirements make the construction of the new line imperative, and now that the ministry of national defense has assumed charge, work can continue. The question of getting the money back commercially plays only a small role in present considerations, since from the viewpoint of the security of our eastern frontier, the completion of the Saint Maurice-Wesserling tunnel is absolutely necessary It will be carried through."

Old Tube Half Finished.

The previous boring was started simultaneously from both sides, one terminal in the Thur valley in the Upper Rhine department and the other at Saint Maurice in the Moselle valley.

More than 4,000 yards were finished on the Alsatian side and 493 yards on the other; thus a little over half of the total distance has been excavated. Engineers calculate that more than 350,000 cubic meters of earth and rock remain to be dug. They believe the project will require four years for completion, with 2,000 specialized workers and technicians employed. When finished, the Bussang tunnel will represent a saving in distance of more than 30 miles on the run between Epinal and Mulhausen besides offering a means of bringing men and supplies up to a battle line through the heart of the mountain range, secure from the enemy artillery and aviation. The tunnel also could be used as a munition depot for the distribution of shells and explosives throughout the region.

One In Every 25 Dallas Families Hit By Divorce

DALLAS, Tex.— (INS —One of every 25 families in Dallas county is eventually broken up by divorce, statistics just compiled by the research bureau of the Dallas Council of Social Agencies show.

However, the rate for Dallas is not so high as in some other Texas cities. The Dallas rate is six and one-half cases per 1,000 population. In Forth Worth it is seven and one-half and in Houston nine.

More than three-quarters of the divorces granted came after less than 10 years of married life, the report found. Number of divorces granted was in almost direct ratio to the poverty of the family—the lower the income and less prosperous the neighborhood, the greater likelihood the marriage will go on the rocks.

PREFER WPA

Skilled Workers Refuse Other Jobs for Steadier Employment.

WOBURN, Mass —(INS)—Skilled workers who are on the WPA are refusing jobs with bigger pay in the patent leather industry because they are convinced the "boom" prevailing in that industry will be short lived.

So great is the demand for patent leather at this time, manufacturers faced with a shortage of skilled labor noticed that the WPA rolls had the men they needed But incredible as it may appear, the workers are not keen on earning higher wages.

Enjoys 3 Meals Every Day Never Needs Dose of Soda

Shelby, Ohio matron has no sign of indigestion, gas, shortness of breath, acid risings or other troubles due to constipation. Praises Vendol for splendid relief.

MRS. THOMAS E. BROWN

"Your wonderful medicine deserves the highest praise that is possible for me to give it," declared Mrs. Thomas E Brown, wife of the former C. and O. Railway Mechanic, residing on Route One, Shelby, Ohio, near Mansfield. She was relating her experience with Vendol to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store a few days ago, and continued:

"When I began taking Vendol a short time ago, I was troubled with indigestion, sour acid stomach, awful bloating gas, a choking feeling in my throat like a lump I couldn't swallow, and shortness of breath, all because I allowed myself to be constipated. It got to where I couldn't eat many things I wanted, just denied myself one thing after another because I knew how I'd suffer. After many a meal I'd dash off for a dose of soda to get relief

"Vendol was so popular here and was praised so highly by leading citizens that I decided to give it a trial and the relief it has given has really exceeded my fondest hopes.

"Why, in no time at all, Vendol and the little Vendol laxative tablets had my bowels moving thoroughly, actively and gently. Now, (and you can believe it or not) I'm actually eating 3 hearty meals a day without a single sign of any of that old suffering with indigestion gas, shortness of breath or acid-risings. Naturally I have no need at all any more for the baking soda. And do you know that I've even gotten a brand-new feeling of strength and energy, since my nerves have calmed down and I enjoy restful sleep.

"I'm recommending Vendol to my friends and hope this public statement will be seen by many people needing the same relief."

Vendol has helped many people right here in this city and nearby towns, so why not give it a chance to help you, too? Come to Central Drug Store, Cor. Main and Fourth Streets, ask for the Vendol Man, and learn all about it. Most all leading druggists sell it.

Baseball Talk....

There's only one thing on the minds of these two young men. Sure, that's baseball. The photo above shows Herbert R. Slough, left, chairman of the Citizens' Baseball committee, which is sponsoring an opening day ticket campaign for Mansfield's Ohio State league opener with Tiffin at the Fairground, May 3, conferring with Damon (Buzz) Wetzel, business manager of the Mansfield club. That their talk has something to do with baseball tickets is shown by the packs of pasteboards on the desk in Wetzel's office at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

Chairman Slough Enthusiastic Over Prospects For Record Opening Day Ticket Sale.

BASEBALL enthusiasm is hitting a new high in Mansfield these days, Herbert R. Slough will tell you. And Herb should have a pretty good idea as to how the interest is running.

Being chairman of the Citizens' committee, which will launch an opening day ticket campaign for the Mansfield baseball club sometime next week, Slough has been in close touch with the baseball situation.

"There's just twice as much interest in baseball in the city as there was two years ago when the Red Sox sponsored the Mansfield team in the Ohio State league," Slough declared.

In view of the current enthusiasm, Slough admited that the possibility of a record sale is bright.

"We have everything in our favor in this year's campaign," Slough said.

"The tie-up that the Mansfield club has with Cleveland is going to help make the Indians' rooters hereabouts Ohio State league fans this year.

"And don't forget those changes at the Fairground," Slough added. "Norman Cohen and Buzz Wetzel are going to make the park the best in the league, bar none. Night baseball will help, too."

* * *

PLANS for the $1 ticket campaign are well under way, and the set-up will be explained to the baseball-interested citizens who will aid in the drive at a meeting to be held at the Chamber of Commerce at 8:30 p. m. Monday.

Meanwhile, Slough, Treasurer Paul Eliot, Secretary Ralph A. Hughes and Assistant Secretary Robert M. Miller are applying their spare time to preparations for the "Fan Night" party, which will be staged by the citizens' committee at the American legion at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Films of both the American and National leagues will be shown at the baseball party, where Cohen and Wetzel will make their first public appearance in this city.

Cohen was expected in the city today, but he notified Wetzel that he will not be able to return until early next week due to the illness of his mother in Toledo.

ALL-STARS ORGANIZE

Brady's All-Stars, champions of the WPA league, will organize for the coming season at a meeting to be held at 68½ North Main street at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

SIKES KAYOES FOE

PINE BLUFF, Ark.—Bob Sikes 190, Pine Bluff knocked out Irish Kennedy, 189, Omaha Neb., (5).

Reds Get Two Hits In Loss

Held Hitless Until Eighth, Lose to Dodgers.

TAMPA, Fla.—(UP)—Manager Bill McKechnie scheduled a stiff batting practice for his Cincinnati Reds today after the National league spring favorites gathered only two hits in losing yesterday to Brooklyn 9 to 1.

Not a single Cincinnati base hit was registered against the daffy Dodgers until the eighth inning when Harry Craft laced a single off Rookie Bill Crouch. Bill Werber came through with the other Red hit, a freak double, in the same inning.

For the remainder of the afternoon, fat Freddie Fitzsimmons and Forrest Presnell held the McKechnie crew impotent at the plate. Only two Red batters reached first base in that space of time, both on walks from Presnell.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers were having a field day on 10 hits including five home runs off Paul Gehrman, Jim Weaver and Ray Davis who hurled for Cincinnati. Cincinnati travels to Lakeland tomorrow for a clash with Detroit.

BUCS RELEASE BRANDT FOR BREAKING TRAINING

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—(AP)—The question before the house is whether the tempest created by mild Pie Traynor in the Pittsburgh Pirates brig yesterday, when he unconditionally released Pitcher Ed Brandt for breaking training rules, will prove a lasting blow to the club's lethargy. It aroused the Buccos to the point of walloping Los Angeles, 18-1, yesterday for their second victory of the exhibition season.

Champs Tackle Marion

Yuncker Club Faces Strong Club in Opening Round Tussle Tonight.

By CHARLES MARTIN

ALTHOUGH they enter The News-Journal-Y. M. C. A. Gold Medal basketball tournament at the Y tonight without Tom Farrell at center, the Yuncker Sports appear to be the leading contender for championship honors.

Manager Jimmy Breres has the same club which carried off top honors in the City Class A league this season, and if it survives the opening round tussle at 9:30 o'clock, it will be marked as the "team to beat."

Plays With Elks.

Farrell, star pivot man, who has played at that post for the Sports in all contests outside of the City league, will be in action in the tourney—but with the Elks lodge quintet.

Opening tonight's three-game card will be a tilt between the Blue Goose Sohioians of Mansfield and the Ashland Merchants. The affair is scheduled to get under way at 7:30. The second melee tosses the Elks' team against Winters' Gulf Oils of Galion.

The Yuncker machine, an aggregation which waded through 14 straight City league contests without tasting defeat, will have a difficult assignment in its initial affray.

Pilot Breres' high-scoring outfit clashes with the touted Earl's Dairy team of Marion, and if advance notices are true, the Sports will have their hands full.

The Marion club, which won the Marion Industrial league title, annexed its crown in a circuit in which the top-notch Marion amateur outfits participated.

In the Soprts lineup will be John Reese, at center, LaVerne Gray and Harold Hayfer at the guards, and Al Stickler, Freddie Lewis and Glenn Irey for the forward berths.

Faces Ashland Team.

The Blue Goose combine, which upset the Westinghouse Electrics in a contest at Senior high recently, faces a team composed of Ashland Industrial league players. And the Elks tackle an outfit that will have at least two City league stars in the lineup.

They are George Nana and Delnore Goldsmith, who performed with the Herrick Hi-Speeds in the city's premier circuit.

Four other teams, the Westinghouse Electrics, Ashland Bobcats, Marion Snappy Service club and Johns Park will not make their debut in the tournament until next week.

MANSFIELD TEAMS CLOSE INTER-CITY BIDS SUNDAY

Mansfield teams will make their final bids for the prizes at stake in the Inter-City bowling tournament at Findlay Sunday when the Mansfield Rugs and Lumbermens Mutuals take to the alleys. They are scheduled to bowl at 1 p. m. The Mansfield teams will shoot at a 3040 total in the five-man division.

BARONS EXTEND SERIES

CLEVELAND—(INS)—The third-place playoffs in the International-American Hockey league stood at one apiece today after the Cleveland Barons scored a 4 to 0 shutout over the Springfield Indians. The playoffs go into a third and deciding game at Cleveland arena tomorrow night.

Inflamed Appendix Puts Vander Meer on Shelf.

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—Johnny Vander Meer, Cincinnati Reds' no-hit southpaw, was under doctor's orders today to forego baseball until April 1. He has been suffering from an inflamed appendix.

Os' Vitt Denies He'll Call on Feller To Pitch Entire Night Sked for Tribe

By JAMES MARLOW

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—If people would dry up and stop predicting what he's going to do with his Cleveland Indians it would make him, perhaps not happy, but satisfied, says Manager Oscar Vitt.

Sitting in the Indians' dressing room just before a practice session, Vitt blasted the "prophets."

"All this talk about my setting the night games' schedule so Bob Feller can pitch them is the old baloney," Vitt said, denying he was going to use the young right-hander in after-sundown games because of his speed and drawing power.

"They think I'm going to use Bob on the theory the batters won't be able to see his fast ball at night," Vitt said. "That makes a lot of sense, doesn't it? Those big-league ball parks under electric lights are as bright as day. I'm going to use Feller in his regular turn."

Cleveland's starting lineup for the first game?

"I can't mention that now," Vitt said. "Of course, I see how things are going. I know who's ready. I know who ain't ready. But could I tell these boys that now, these boys out there all trying to make the team? No. I couldn't do that to them. In my heart I know who'll probably make the team. But I can't say it."

In a thoroughly melancholy mood, Vitt drifted off on the subject of Pitcher Johnny Allen, the right-hander who won 14 games and lost 8 last year and then had an operation on his flinging arm.

"Time alone will tell about Johnny," Vitt said. "I'm not going to know how he is until the regular season games. I'm going to wait till the season starts before I let him bear down with his arm. I hope it's all right."

Findlay Team Tougher Than Touted Stars

Rolls 2895 in A.B.C. to 2756 for St. Louis Pinmen.

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Don Beatty, husky young mechanic of Jackson, Mich., is the first of the defending champions to put his crown on the auction block in the current American Bowling congress.

King of the all-events division as a result of his 1938 total over the rugged nine-game trail, last year, Don puts his title in jeopardy when he starts his 1939 effort in the five-man event tonight. He has been burning the boards this year tossing off big six hundreds and occasionally hitting into the rarefied atmosphere of the 700 range.

The ABC loses its exhibition aspects tonight as 73 regular quintets arrive from 40 different cities, as far afield as Clinton, Ia., Baltimer, Md., and Crown City, N. J. From now on it's a battle of the giants with sharpshooters, professionals, distinguished amateurs—city, state, national, international and world's champions— on hand in abundance.

Last night an unkonwn pin popper from Akron, O., "stole" the show when Anthony Kedacic fired 215-228-279 for a blazing 722, heaviest series of the current classic. This score, rolled with the Kenmore Recreation, gives him a flying start on the all-events route.

The largest crowd of the meet came down to see the St. Louis Hermann Undertakers, national match game champions, who turned in a sociable total of 2756 with 877-942-937.

Jerry's Insurance of Findlay, O., moved into third place among the leaders with 2895 from 956-1046-893. Fulton A. C. of Erie, Pa., took over sixth spot with 2865.

OHIO STATE SHOVES OFF FOR MONDAY'S TITLE TILT

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Western conference champions and survivor of the Eastern National Collegiate Basketball tournament, Ohio State's confident cage squad today prepared to shove off for Chicago where Monday night they will tangle with Oregon for the national collegiate basketball championship.

Rated as one of the greatest teams in Pacific coast history, Oregon will present a somewhat awe-inspiring sight. Four of the Webfoots are six feet in height or over but the fifth member is a veritable midget.

Richards Wins Foul Contest

Beats Santora in Shoot-off to Win Senior Title.

Hank Richards won the senior foul shooting tournament at the Friendly House last night by defeating Joe Santora in a shoot-off. Richards and Santora each made 17 out of 25 of the alliotted shots to tie for the championship, but the former won in the shoot-off when he bettered this average by converting 20 out of another 25. Santora made only 14 out of 25 in the shoot-off. The champion was presented with a trophy. Scores of the tournament follow:

Averill, Hale To Ride Bench

Campbell, Shilling Get Call Against Giants.

NEW ORLEANS, La.—(UP)—The Cleveland Indians poised themselves today for their first major league competition of the season Saturday afternoon against the New York Giants.

Manager Oscar Vitt declared that performances of the past two weeks of Indian training won't mean a thing in the red-hot competition for several starting berths if the same form is not displayed against Bill Terry's club.

"I believe I can safely say that the men who look best against the Giants will be our regulars," Vitt said. "Past performances won't count so much. And if we win this year's spring series with the Giants decisively—well, come around and see me in October and I might be smiling."

Admitting that spring exhibition games often are a poor forecast of what the club will do in the regular season, Vitt sets great store on the annual Cleveland-Giant series as a form indicator.

Vitt will stick to the starting lineup he used this week for the initial Giant game which means that Outfielder Earl Averill, Shortstop Lyn Lary and Second Baseman Sam Hale, regulars of 1938, will be riding the bench at the start.

The lineup will have Jimmy Webb at short, Jim Shilling, current rookie under test at the troublesome second base spot, and probably Bruce Campbell at Averill's outfield post.

Webb poled a triple and a double and Campbell a home run yesterday as the Tribe spanked New Orleans, 7 to 2, behind fine pitching by Recruits Tom Drake and Bill Zuber.

DUSEK PINS OLSEN

CAMDEN, N. J.—Ernie Dusek, 228, Omaha, threw Cliff Olsen, 228 Minneapolis, 22.45.

'300' Bowler

William McGeorge, 53-year-old Kent, O., accountant, rolled his way into sport fame, by bagging a perfect score of 300 in the first singles game he ever bowled in the American Bowling Congress now holding its 1939 tournament in Cleveland. Only five other men in A. B. C. history have achieved a perfect score.

Durocher Undecided What To Do With Phenom.

LAKELAND, Fla.—(UP)—Manager Leo Durocher, who brought his Brooklyn Dodgers here today to meet the Detroit Tigers has a big problem in rookie Pete Reiser, who is supposed to join the Dodgers' farm at Elmira, N. Y.

Reiser has played in the Dodgers' last two exhibition games and is batting 1,000. He his three home runs and four singles, and Durocher must decide whether to send him to Elmira or arrange a transfer to the Dodgers. Reiser contributed two four-baggers and a brace of singles to the Dodgers' 9-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday. The Tigers were beaten 8-6 by the St. Louis Cards yesterday.

Headline Mat Bill Tonight

Sexton, Grandovitch Tangle in Feature Bout on All-Heavyweight Program.

WITH the promise that he will halt the lengthy win streak of Frank Sexton, Leon Grandovitch of Russia today awaited his match with the big Sedalia, O., farmer boy in the Armory tonight.

The bout has feature billing on the weekly presentation of the Quality club, and will be decided over the two-fall, 90-minute time limit route.

Sexton will be the underdog for the first time in months when he tries conclusions with the burly "Russian Lion." The latter comes here with a terrific record, including a draw battle with Everett Marshall of La Junta, Colo., and a victory over the big Nazi stormtrooper, Friederick Von Schacht of Germany.

Semi-Final Attractive.

Semi-final on tonight's card is also attractive, with popular Steve Budynas of Schenectady, N. Y., slated for action against Tommy Marvin of Oklahoma City, Okla. Budynas, schooled by Pinkie Gardner, is one of the best youngsters in the sport and will be sorely tested by the veteran Marvin.

Ernie Dugan, substituting for George Gustovitch, will meet Sailor Bull Curly of Glouster, Mass., in the opener. He will wrestle "the most tattooed man in America" for one fall, with a 30-minute time limit, opening the program at 8:30 sharp.

Tonight's card is completely heavyweight, a rather rare attraction for this vicinity. Light-heavyweights have dominated most of the offerings during the indoor season, but the signing of the highly-rated Grandovitch indicates that this rule may not hold true during the remainder of the season, although Quality club officials have stated that good light-heavyweights will still get featured spots.

RANDOM SHOTS

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

"Spotsy"

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., ball park announcers will have a chance to give their vocal cords a terrific workout this year if George Schneidmuller and Frank Spartichino make the grade. George and "Spotsy," who got their break in baseball in this city two years ago, are doing alright so far . . . Johnny Newton learned in a letter that Andy Gilbert is also in Little Rock, but has been assigned to report to Rocky Mount, N. C., where another former Mansfield star, Steve Patras, will wield his heavy bat this season . . . Bill Werber, new Cincinnati third baseman, is regarded as the hardest man in baseball to handle. But he can play third base, too, Bill McKechnie will probably tell the critics. . . . John Lardner tells his readers in this week's Newsweek that the Kentucky Derby is not the oldest horse-racing fixture in the United States, nor the richest, nor the truest. The Travers, run at Saratoga since 1864, is the oldest. The Belmont Futurity and Santa Anita Handicap pay nearly twice as much in prizes as the Derby. The Belmont Stakes, at a mile and a half, is said to be a truer test of a three-year-old's mettle. But, we add the Kentucky Derby is the Kentucky Derby . . . color and tradition, that's it.

Don't be surprised if you ever see Norman Cohen, president of the Mansfield ball club, filling-in as a drummer in some orchestra. Norm once rattled the hide for a college band. . . . Coach Russ Murphy is still vacationing, according to latest reports, but spring grid drills at the high school are expected to get under way April 1 (no foolin'). . . . Tonight's recommendation: The News-Journal-Y. M. C. A. basketball tournament games at the Y . . . and the Yuncker Sport-Marion Earl Dairy game in particular.

Now Tony Knows What Its Like to Coach a Winner.

NOW that Ashland college is again on top in basketball, Coach Tony Lonera is finding it difficult to arrange a schedule. That's the case of a winner, Tony. . . . Mt. Gilead lake, over in Morrow county, will be closed from April 1 through June 30 to safeguard fish during the spring spawning season. . . . Jim Whittaker, who drew his first attention as a runner in the Mansfield relays a few years ago, will be pitted against Archie San Romani in a special mile race at the annual Cleveland interscholastic indoor track meet April 1. Whittaker, who is at Ohio State, is the Big Ten two mile champion. . . . Lou Little of Columbia will give Clair Bee a hand at supervising spring football at Long Island this spring. Long Island makes its grid debut next fall.

Printers Roll 2887 In Commercial Loop

Sweep Series With Ringside Club to Move Ahead of Office Cafe In Fight for First Place.

A FLOCK of hefty team totals featured the scoring in the Commercial B league at the Meder alleys last night.

Pacing the assault were the Mansfield Printers, who wrapped up a 2887 series as they jumped out of a tie for first place with the Office Cafe.

Featuring a middle score of 1054, the Printers swept their match with the Ringside Cafe, which upset 2714 pins. Carl Heilman and Bob Flood led the Printers with 618's, and Charley Jones was only one pin short of the 600 figure.

The Satterlee Restaurant club moved into a tie for second place by taking two decisions from the Office Cafe with a 2737 total to which Red Johns contributed an even 600.

Second high in the team scoring were the Yuncker Sports, who spilled 2832 sticks, opening with a 1012. Led by Win Pilot's 614 and Leo Yuncker's 610, the Sports took three games from the Ohio Public Service.

Pete Linster cracked out a 614 to lead the Mansfield Rugs to a 2806 count and a clean sweep over the Kochheiser Sports. Smith was high with a 599 as the Heilman Grocers added two wins at the expense of Burghardt's Cafe, led by Henry Stauffer's 622. The Grocers compiled a 2707 total.

Neil Swank came through with a nifty 634 to lead the Shelby Cycles to three wins over Met's Auto Supplies.

Stanley Cup Field Reduced

Americans Eliminated by Toronto Maple Leafs.

(By United Press)

The Stanley Cup hockey field was narrowed to five contenders today with elimination of the New York Americans.

Toronto's second straight victory over the Americans last night sent the Maple Leafs into the playoff semi-finals where they will meet the winner of the Detroit-Montreal series which was squared at one-all when Detroit won last night.

Boston's Bruins, who set five records in winning the National league hockey title, put a strangle hold on a finals berth when they handed the New York Rangers their second straight defeat.

The Rangers, playing with a substitute goalie in place of Davie Kerr, who was injured in the first playoff game, extended the Bruins to overtime for the second straight time last night, 3 to 2. Toronto blanked the Americans 2-0 for their second straight shutout.

Detroit kept its hopes alive with a four-goal rally in the last period that beat Montreal 7-3.

Arntz Leads Gasco To Second Place

Lee Arntz battered the target for a 280 score to lead the Richland Gasco Rifle club to second place in a three-team match with Bucyrus and Galion in Bucyrus last night.

The Bucyrus shooters, led by Haspeslaugh's 283 and Tuller's 281, won the watch with a 1394 aggregate. Mansfield was second with 1373, and Galion trailed with 1347.

NEW RECOVERY SYMPTOMS HIT STOCK MARKET

Prices Advance Point or So, Traders Less Apprehensive Over Foreign Affairs.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK—(AP)—Stocks resumed the forward tilt in today's market with leaders adding fractions to more than 2 points to Thursday's recoveries. Bonds leaned upward, with rails favored. Commodities were slightly mixed. Aiding sentiment was the firmness of foreign markets.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Recovery symptoms again were displayed by the stock market today and leaders posted advances running to a point or so.

Traders seemed less apprehensive over foreign affairs and were still hopeful Washington developments would lean toward business aid.

Continued firmness of European markets was a bolstering influence.

Bonds moved upward quietly. Commodities were mixed.

Among rising stocks were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, Consolidated Edison, Anaconda, Westinghouse and Du Pont.

Looking toward the merchandising field for market clues, analysts found only mild encouragement in the weekly survey of Dun & Bradstreet which said that retail spending, while averaging 4 to 10 per cent above the like 1938 week for the country as a whole, fell below expectations.

SAYS TIME RIPE FOR BOND PLAN

Eliot Tells 200 at Town Hall Low Interest for Proposed Water Issue Assured.

Tatnall declared. "Four-inch pipe is not large enough for a fire protection system and must be replaced before Mansfield can expect lower insurance rates."

Mayor Urges Bonds.

Mayor Claude M. Hunter speaking briefly called for the support of the citizens of Mansfield to back a bond issue that would provide funds for the rehabilitation of both the water and sewer systems.

"We have a survey of the water system that represents time and money, but it is doing us no good unless we do something about it," he asserted. "We have a survey started on the sanitary sewer system and expect to have it completed by June 1 and will then know what our needs are in that division.

"When completed and our needs known, I feel that the citizens of Mansfield should issue bonds and put the systems in shape," he added.

The report on the survey of the water system completed two years ago was reviewed by VanDerau who pointed out that the city needed approximately $600,000 to make the necessary improvements in the distribution system to care only for present needs without providing for the future.

"City officials are doing what they can," VanDerau said, "but they can't make these improvements unless the citizens of Mansfield give them the money to do it with."

He termed the water system as a "system of patches" because the lack of municipal funds has not made it possible to make comprehensive improvements.

LUCAS—The March meeting of the Hopewell Community club, scheduled for this evening, has been postponed until next Friday evening, according to officers of the club. The same committees will be in charge of the program and social hour as were announced for tonight's meeting.

LIGHTER side of Hollywood: Frank Morgan is going to build a swanky dude ranch near Palm Springs . . . William Gargan imported shamrocks all the way from Ireland to give his pals on St. Patrick's day. They came from Galway, home of his wife's people for 800 years . . . The Irish citizens of Los Angeles have presented Spencer Tracy with another statue, for the best performance as an Irish actor in 1939. M-G-M is having a headache in casting "The Woman" because Hedy Lamarr, Norma Shearer, Ina Claire, Ilka Chase are all testing out for the role—and all want it. Lupe Velez gets $200 a day for rental of one of her own costumes which she wears for a sequence in "The Girl From Mexico."

Human Interest.

Two human interest stories, entirely different in themes, make up the Madison bill for the remainder of the week. "A Man To Remember," is packed with human interest and drama, and is told in retrospect, with Edward Ellis in the role of the small town doctor. "Fisherman's Wharf," Bobby Breen's picture, is a colorful bit of human interest in film, with San Francisco's picturesque fishing quarter as a locale.

"The Painted Desert."

George O'Brien's western story "The Painted Desert" brings to the Park theater a tale of romance and daring in the pioneer days of Arizona, colored with the stirring events of that young state's "growing pains." Edith Fellows, juvenile star, is the center of attraction in "The Little Adventuress," in which a thrilling horse race provides the climax.

Guerrilla Warfare.

Two-gun justice comes to Texas, with bullet for bullet and blow for blow in "Lone Star Pioneers," actionful story woven around guerrilla warfare. Bill Elliott is the Western hero of this Majestic feature. He plays a United States marshal. "Boy Slaves" with Anne Shirley, Alan Baxter and a group of young character players is the second feature.

ONDOV WALKS--THAT'S NEWS

Divinity Student, Paralyzed in Accident, Uses Legs 'Dead' for 16 Months.

the boy who has spent dark days and nights wondering if he would ever walk again.

"It's going to take time, I know, a lot more than I ever dreamed it would," he said today, "but I've learned to be patient and I know that in time I'll be walking normally again. I'm planning on going back to school in September. I've had letters from faculty members at the divinity school at Wittenberg and from the Lutheran Foreign Missions board which will help me. Even if I can't walk, I can keep up with my studies and by the time I've finished school, I know I'll be ready for service."

Ondov's case attracted nationwide notice and through funds raised by private subscriptions, churches and organizations, he has been enabled to remain at the hospital and receive medical care.

After the accident late in 1937, his condition appeared hopeless until in March of last year when funds raised—largely through the efforts of Rev. Herman L. Gilbert of St. Paul Lutheran church and other Lutheran pastors—for a delicate operation on the spine. The operation was successful. But it was months before he began to have any feeling in his feet or legs. Constant massage and exercises by means of mechanical aid have been given him through the long months.

In the last few months he has picked up physically and now weighs about 170 pounds as compared with 130 a year ago. Doctors, nurses and hospital attendants are all his friends and have made his life much easier, while Lutheran ministers of the city are regular visitors.

He has become quite an adept at the game of chess and plays often with Vic Alderson, one of the state's best players, and not infrequently Ondov "takes" the expert.

Rev. Gilbert said today that almost $3,000 had been contributed to young Ondov's cause in the past year, and that he was continuing the fund to keep him in the hospital for the summer, hoping that he could re-enter school in September.

Ashland College 'Queen' Chooses Aides for May Day

ASHLAND—With May 20 designated officially as Ashland college May day, the announcement of the list of attendants for the event has been made here by Miss Inez Deardorff, May Queen.

Miss Inez, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Deardorff, in announcing the 16 fellow students to be her attendants included Marily Miller of Ashland; Dorothy Michael of Lorain; Leonard Carlisle of Shelby, and Robert Shively of Nappanee, Ind.

Evelyn Crick, Johnston, Pa., Jeanette Echelberger, Mary Vanosdall, George and Emory Marble of Ashland, Eleanor Miller, Maurertown, Va.; Harry Dutka, Parma, and Domer Newell of Connellsville, Pa.

Helen Miller of Sterling, Annabel Miller and Eugene Beekley of Ashland and Wellington Klingel of Warsaw, Ind.

Present plans for the May day events include a pageant following the coronation; a baseball game with Otterbein college, and the senior class play in the evening.

Miss Thelma Slack, head of the college department of dramatics, will be in charge of the pageant.

GUEST PASTOR

LEXINGTON—Rev. J. A. Thomas, pastor of the Plymouth Presbyterian church, will be guest preacher at the fifth weekly Lenten service at 7:45 p. m. Sunday a the Presbyterian church.

Music during the service will be furnished by the choir of the Plymouth church.

Dr. W. H. Hubbell, pastor of the Second United Presbyterian church, Cleveland, for 25 years, and for a number of years secretary and treasurer of the Cleveland Ministerial association, will be guest speaker for the community Good Friday to be held in the Presbyterian church.

The service will begin at 12:15 p. m. and continue until 1:15.

Other guest ministers will also participate in this service.

CLOSED AGAIN

PERRYSVILLE — After being closed a part of last week because of general illness among students and teachers alike, the Perrysville schools resumed activities Monday morning, only to shut down again for the balance of the week as soon as Supt. H. M. Wiggins had determined that the number of absentees was still too large to operate the schools effectively.

It is believed that the school system will be able to resume its regular program next Monday.

INJURED IN BUCYRUS

BUCYRUS — Russell Quaintance, 30, of 316 West Irving street, was in City hospital today with head injuries suffered last night in an accident at the square of downtown Bucyrus. His condition was said not to be serious. His car collided with a machine driven by Robert Johnson of near Bucyrus. Johnson escaped injury but both cars were damaged.

The Texas state capitol at Austin is constructed of Texas granite obtained in a trade for 3,000,000 acres of what now is choice ranch land in the Panhandle.

WOMAN, BEDFAST 5 MONTHS, DIES

Mrs. Anna Robb, 68, Succumbs at Home of Daughter in Crestline.

CRESTLINE—Mrs. Anna Pickering Robb, 68, a native of Logan county, died here Thursday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Roy Helfrich, following a lingering illness. Mrs. Robb had been bedfast for the past five months.

Mrs. Robb was born Aug. 26, 1870 in Logan county. Surviving are a son, Darrell J. Pickering, Electric City, Wash.; two daughters, Mrs. Mary Murphy of Galion and Mrs. Helfrich with whom she made her home; a brother Robert I. Johnston of Lewistown, O., and 14 grandchildren.

HUTCHINS NEW SEC CHAIRMAN?

Youthful Chicago University President Offered, Accepts U. S. Post, Capital Hears.

school, he gave Douglas a position on the faculty.

When Hutchins left Yale to become president of Chicago university, he offered Douglas $20,000 a year to accompany him. At the time, he characterized Douglas as "the best law professor in the country."

Although Douglas refused the offer and subsequently joined the SEC, he frequently consulted Hutchins on legal problems arising from enforcement of the securities laws.

When the New York Stock Exchange was reorganized last year following the Whitney scandal, Douglas was instrumental in the selection of Hutchins as one of the public governors of the exchange.

Hutchins resigned this post several months ago accusing the exchange leadership of failing to carry out certain reforms demanded by the SEC. He criticized the exchange for refusing to take punitive action against a number of well-known Wall Street personalities who had been accused of helping Richard Whitney conceal his financial peculations.

The administration is particularly desirous of replacing Douglas with a man of Hutchins' liberal principles because of the increasing demands for relaxation of the securities acts.

PLANS SERIES OF LENTEN SERVICES

JEROMESVILLE—The Trinity Lutheran church will hold its special Lenten services next week, the pastor, Rev. John Ernest Hofer, announced today.

Services will be held Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, and will be conducted by the pastor. Sermon subjects for the series are: "Why Judas Betrayed Jesus," "Roses of Lilies," "The Trial of Jesus" and "Voices."

All services will begin at 8 p. m. and will feature special music under the direction of Mrs. Howard Metcalf. Next Friday evening the preparatory service of confession and absolution will be held, and Palm Sunday morning the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated.

CHILD, 2, DIES

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hyatt Succumbs In Columbus.

FREDERICKTOWN — Marie Hyatt, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hyatt, two miles south of here, died Thursday evening at White Cross hospital, Columbus, following a brief illness. She had been confined to the hospital since Tuesday.

Surviving besides the parents is a sister, Florence. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Baptist church here with Rev. A. R. Woodworth officiating. Burial will be in Forest cemetery.

ATTEND TOURNEY

PERRYSVILLE—Coach S. H. Mohr and five members of the Perrysville basketball squad were among the spectators who attended the state class "B" cage tournament at Columbus last Saturday as guests of Perrysville business men and employes of the Mansfield Sanitary pottery plant here.

Expenses of the trip to Columbus were paid from a fund raised among the business men and pottery employes.

Included in the squad which attended the state tournament were Tom Christopher, Glenn Atkinson, William Herman, Harold Zody and Howard Shaull.

PLAYERS FETED

LUCAS—Members of the Lucas high school basketball squad, runners-up in the district tournament at Carey, were guests at a banquet given by Mrs. Mae Cole, proprietor of the Macre restaurant in Lucas Wednesday evening.

Presiding over the affair as toastmaster, Supt. V. Leland Gilliland commented on the season record of the Lucas squad which scored 747 points in 22 games to opponents' 573, or an overage of 34 to opponents' 26.

LUCAS—Members of a Wooster bridge club, of which she is a member, were entertained Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. F. G. Keister in Lucas, where two tables of bridge were in progress during the eevening. Mrs. Paul Lee of Lucas was a guest of the club.

MEMEL'S HEILS GREET HITLER

Fuehrer Tells Big Welcoming Throng Nazis End 'Unique Process of Reparation.'

reich, so too we here want to give expression to our faith and our confidence in the words, 'Sieg Heil!' "

After the fuehrer finished speaking, enthusiastic singing of the reich's national anthems followed.

While warning the world that no nation on earth could tear the unified German nation asunder, Hitler declared:

"We Germans have no intention of doing harm to the rest of the world.

"The damage which that other world did to Germany however, had to be repaired again.

'Unique Process Ends.'

"I believe that now, in the main, we have arrived at an end to this unique process of reparation."

This was interpreted as an effort to appease a nervous world and especially Poland.

Hitler came to this first Nazi won seaport by man o' war and landed in German Memel amid a proud display of naval, army and aerial might.

A destroyer bringing the Fuehrer from the Deutschland was fastened to the Memel pier at 2:02 p. m. (8:02 a. m. Est) and Hitler stepped on Memel soil two minutes later. All whistles in the little Baltic port blew as he landed.

Deafening "Heils!" rent the air as Ernst Neumann, Nazi leader for Memel, and other dignitaries greeted the Fuehrer, who yesterday reclaimed Memelland from Lithuania for his expanding realm.

Hitler shook hands with Generals and admirals commanding his forces.

Crowd Shouts.

German airforce units cruised overhead.

As the crowds cried ecstattically, "We thank our Fuehrer," Hitler took a salute of honor from a company of marines.

The Fuehrer next reviewed the Memel security service and thanked the formation's leader for its services.

A band meanwhile played Deutschland Ueber Alles and the Horst Wessel song.

Hitler then took the salute of the Memel police and entered his open automobile to proceed slowly through the newly occupied port.

There were continual cries of "Heil" and Hitler went his triumphal way through the city.

Motorized police and army units preceded him to the theaterplatz, for the "Staatsakt," or ceremony of state.

For fully six minutes the enthusiastic crowd yelled itself hoarse before the state ceremony could begin.

It began with a review of military formations and then Hitler entered the theater to speak from its balcony.

Germany, Lithuania Sign Neutrality Pact.

BERLIN — (U.P.) — Germany and Lithuania have signed an unconditional neutrality treaty, it was announced today, as part of a formal agreement providing for Lithuania's surrender of Memel territory.

The treaty provided for establishment of a free port at Memel for Lithuania's use.

The treaty also prescribes that all Lithuanian military and police forces shall be evacuated from Memel territory immediately, and that the Lithuanian government shall see that the evacuation is effected in an orderly manner

The free port area is to be under German sovereignty.

As Germany celebrated the return of Memel, the government, in close consultation with Italy, prepared plans to strike back at the "Stop Hitler" drive of the democracies.

Well informed Nazi quarters predicted that German retaliatory measures were likely to include:

1—Denunciation of the Anglo-German naval limitation pact in the near future

2—Publication of documents found at Prague and alleged to disclose British negotiations with leading Czech statesmen for restoration of the Czechoslovak state to pre-Munich agreement form.

3—Powerful trade drives to counteract any Anglo-French trade moves.

Discuss Institutes—About 15 farmers' institute officers formulated preliminary plans for their 1940 institutes at a meeting last night at the courthouse. Tentative dates were set up, but County Agent George B. Ganyard said they must be certified by the state before they will be announced.

Cattlemen Meet—Jersey cattle breeders in Richland county have been invited to attend a meeting at 8 p. m. today in the county agent's office at the courthouse where an attempt will be made to organize a Jersey breeders' association. Homer Bohl of Columbus, field man for the Ohio Jersey Creamline association, will speak.

Answer Two Alarms—Firemen from company No. 1 were called to extinguish two minor fires yesterday. Shortly after noon they answered a call at the residence of C. P. Nye, 832 Park avenue west, to extinguish a roof blaze caused by sparks from the chimney. At 6 p. m. they responded to a call at the Mersch Motor Sales, Park avenue east, when a short in the ignition set of a motorcycle caught on fire.

No Meal Too Big Or Hearty For Her Since Taking Vendol

Mansfield lady says before taking this splendid Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine and getting relief from constipation, that most everything upset her stomach.

MRS. BESSIE M. ADAMS

"Truly, I wouldn't take anything for the wonderful relief that Vendol has brought me," said Mrs. Bessie M. Adams of 579 Springmill St., the expert Pastry Maker at Max Diner Restaurant. In a statement to the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store, where he daily hears Vendol praised to sky high by some of the most reliable citizens living around here, who tell how it has restored them to full enjoyment of health.

"I allowed myself to become constipated, and this condition lay at the bottom of all my troubles. Got to where most everything I ate nauseated me, turned sour in my stomach, and acid risings burned my throat. I just seemed to ache all over, had no energy and felt dizzy and headachy most all the time. I couldn't get restful sleep because of being called out of bed so often to relieve my kidneys.

"A number of my friends and neighbors were taking Vendol and I often heard them speak highly of the relief it gave, so I got some and also a box of the little Vendol Laxative Tablets and this proved to be one of the wisest things I ever did.

"Gratifying relief from constipation was the first thing I noticed, then no meal was too big or hearty for me to eat and enjoy without a moment's distress following. That isn't all. I get long hours of restful sleep without a call, and arise every morning ready for my day's work. That tired, worn-out feeling has given way to renewed energy, the pains all over my body have been relieved, and I just feel improved in every way.

"Surely, if Vendol could do this for me, I know it will help everyone suffering like I did, who is willing to give it a trial. That explains why I'm glad to recommend this splendid medicine to them."

Don't delay giving this great compound of Nature's Roots and Herbs with Mild Alkalines a chance to help you. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere, and the Vendol Man is daily at Central Drug Store, Cor. Main & Fourth Sts., to explain all about it. So, visit him soon.

FRENCH SEEK WARSAW'S O.K. ON 'BLOCKADE'

Polish Government Holds Out, Wants Defense Commitments From London, Paris.

FACE ITALIAN DEMANDS

Observers See French-Italian Situation Linked to Halt New Nazi Spread.

BULLETIN

WARSAW — (AP) — The Warsaw Express Poranny, considered to be a mouthpiece of the foreign office, said today Poland would not join any international bloc. Political circles considered this as tantamount to a rejection of the British "Stop Hitler" plans.

(By Associated Press)

British and French efforts to rally "anti-aggressor" nations to halt Adolf Hitler's march to the east centered today on Poland's support.

Poland has been deaf to British entreaties without flat military commitments to assume her own defense. Her neighbor on three sides is Germany which has smashed Czechoslovakia, gained Memel and struck a broad trade bargain with Rumania.

Bank on France.

It was believed in London that France, because of the long-standing friendship with Poland, might be more likely than Poland to join. This, it was believed, will be a prime matter in urgent consultations expected to take place between French Premier Daladier and his foreign minister, Georges Bonnet.

Bonnet and President Albert Lebrun of France left for Paris after a three-day state visit to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth in London.

Also confronting France was the possibility of negotiations to settle her differences with Italy. Many French observers saw a direct link between the French-Italian issue and the attempt to form a "stop Hitler" bloc.

They reasoned that Premier Mussolini was marking time to see how successful Britain and France would be and expressed belief that much further delay would indicate to Il Duce that he had chosen well in casting his lot with Hitler.

Borders All Friendly.

Nazis, meanwhile, looked at Europe's map with conviction that, for the first time since the World war, they had only friends on the immediate east, from the Baltic to the Black sea.

The fuehrer, returned to Berlin after yesterday's triumphant entry into regained Memelland and was expected soon to take a prolonged rest. Informed quarters in Berlin predicted there would be

Center of U. S. Steel Industry Still In County

Continuing its northwestern trend, the geographic center of the nation's strip and sheet steel production, while still in Richland county moved to a point northeast of Shelby, the American Iron and Steel Institute reported today.

According to its calculations, the institute said the exact "center of gravity" of the steel industry today is located on the old Dempsey farm, just northeast of Shelby.

At the close of 1936 the geographic center was located about one mile north of Mansfield, climaxing an eastern movement in steel production from 1933. Since that time the trend has been slightly to the northwest.

Explanation of the westward shift, the institute reported, was seen in net increases in steel capacity west of the geographic center and in the abandonment since 1936 of some steel capacity east of the center of capacity, which more than offset recent increases in the total capacity of the area.

Between 1874 and 1933 the center of the industry moved steadily toward the west at an average rate of about six miles per year.

Hear Time's Ideal Now For Water Bonds

200 at Revived Town Hall Told Low Interest Rate Assured.

Now is the most favorable time in the history of the country for Mansfield to issue bonds for improving its water distribution system, Paul M. Eliot, secretary-treasurer of the Farmers Savings and Trust company, told 200 representatives of civic organizations at a Town Hall meeting last night.

"Money markets are at their lowest point right now and I predict that an issue sold at this time would not have a maximum rate of more than two per cent," Eliot asserted.

The Town Hall meeting plan was revived by the Chamber of Commerce to stimulate interest in a $600,000 proposed bond issue to rehabilitate the city's water distribution system.

Would Add Mill First Year.

Eliot said that if $800,000 in bonds were issued to finance improvements in both the water and sewer systems that it would add only one mill the first year and three-fourths of a mill for a 20-year period.

He estimated that it would cost an owner of a $5,000 property only $3.75 annually.

Herbert Slough, chairman of the chamber's fire prevention committee, told the group that Mansfield fire insurance buyers were being penalized $50,000 annually because of the lack of an adequate water supply in the city.

He said that the National Board of Fire Underwriters had degraded Mansfield from a fifth class rating to sixth class in 1934 because the city in a 10-year period preceding that time had "done nothing" to improve the water distribution system.

Slough pointed out that "fortunately Mansfield has not had any serious fires that have resulted in any loss of life," and then urged that the city prepare itself for the future "so such a thing will never happen here."

George Tatnall of Chicago, engineer for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, cited the board's 1934 report which severely criticized the city water distribution system.

"The report at that time showed that about 60 per cent of the water mains here were four-inch pipe,"

NAB 'PHANTOM'

Police Get $80,000 in Gems in Movieland Arrest.

VENICE, Calif.—(AP)—Detective Capt. Harry Seager said today he believed the arrest in San Francisco of Walter Graham, 40, with $80,000 in gems had ended a five-year search for the "phantom burglar of Bel-Air," whose particular prey had been the wealthy of the motion picture colony.

Seager said officers also had founds jewels "worth at least $20,000," in a Venice residence, the address of which was supplied by San Francisco police after Graham's arrest, and that Mrs. Charlotte Graham, 39, his wife, had been apprehended as she attempted to flee.

Michael Ondov, divinity student, who has been confined to General hospital for the past 16 months because of a broken back and paralysis which followed an auto accident, dressed up in his best bib and tucker yesterday to show The News-Journal cameraman that he can stand on his own feet once again. He took his first steps this week. Almost as proud as Michael himself are the floor nurses. Left to right they are Margaret Kisling, Jane Stoughton, Pauline Armstrong and Margaret Loesch.

$5,000 LOSS IN LAUNDRY BLAZE

Equipment Suffers Greatest Damage; Three Companies Fight Downtown Fire.

Damage, mostly to equipment, from a fire of undetermined origin which swept through the Calvert laundry, 22 East Temple court yesterday afternoon was estimated at $5,000 today by Milton O. Doolittle, the proprietor.

The blaze which was confined to the first floor of the two-story building was brought under control within half an hour by three companies of firemen under the direction of Fire Chief Charles J. Seeburger. Three hose lines were laid by firemen from engine companies Nos. 1, 2, and 3.

Doolittle said that blaze was discovered by office workers at 5:15 p. m. as they prepared to leave for the day. Other employes had left several hours earlier. Damage to laundry of customers was slight, Doolittle said.

The flames confined mostly to the drying room where the fire broke out damaged electric motors that drives the machinery. Slight damage to the building was reported.

Doolittle said that the loss was partly covered by insurance and that repairs were under way today and that service would be maintained without interruption.

FLAYS OUSTERS

Lawmaker Says Pension Dismissals in Ohio 'False Economy.'

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Branding four dismissals from the Belmont county aid for the aged office as "false economy," Rep. John R. Crunelle (D-Belmont) charged today that Tom McCaw, chief of the division, intended to replace those fired with Republicans on April 1.

Ondov Walks Again, And That's Really a Story!

Divinity Student, Paralyzed In Auto Accident, Takes First, Wobbly Steps on Legs 'Dead' 16 Months.

By JANE WILLIAMS

Thoughts of returning to school in September, of resuming his theological career at Wittenberg, were uppermost today in the mind of Michael Ondov, 25, who took his first halting, awkward steps Wednesday after a year, four months and seven days of paralysis.

Ondov was taken to General hospital on Nov. 5, 1937, more dead than alive, with a broken back, after a car in which he was riding turned over near Hayesville. He, with a group of students from Wittenberg, was en route to Cleveland for the week-end. Ondov was a student at Hamma Divinity school.

Fitted With Braces.

This week he was fitted with braces which extend from his feet to his hips, and Thursday he was placed on his feet and with the aid of nurses, made the short distance from his bed to the door of his room and back. It was a gigantic effort for the boy who has been confined to his bed for more than 16 months and whose legs have been "dead" most of that time.

The steps weren't the long, confident strides of a college boy who had been a football player, but those of a small baby that is placed on its feet for the first time. His feet had to be moved by the nurse when they got out of line—but somehow they made it to the door and back.

And that seemed a miracle to

SET FOR RUSH

Auto Club Reports Few Cars Have 1939 Licenses.

The office of the deputy registrar of motor vehicles today was planning to handle the largest last-week crowds in its history next week as the result of the small number of plates sold to date.

The largest decrease is in auto and trailer trucks, with only one-third of the number sold to date as compared with the same period last year. Passenger plates, however, were only three behind last year, but the number is low enough to indicate that there will be a constant "jam" at the registrar's office all next week. Only 3,836 passenger plates had been sold up to today.

The office will be open tomorrow until 8 p. m. and every night next week until that hour. The deadline for old plates is midnight next Friday, with no extension of time likely.

FACING PRISON

Two Convicted In Los Angeles City Job Selling Scheme.

LOS ANGELES — (U.P.) — Joe Shaw, brother of a recalled Los Angeles mayor, and William Cormack, an ally, faced long prison sentences today for falsifying public records in a city job-selling scheme.

It was charged that hundreds of applicants for jobs or promotions in the police and fire departments found their only course was in "paying-off" the "bosses" to get favorable ratings on the civil service lists.

PILOT KILLED

Companion Leaps to Safety as Army Plane Crashes.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH, Md.—(INS)—Out of gasoline after being lost in a dense fog for hours, an army pursuit plane crashed near this shore resort today, killing its pilot, Lieut. Elton E. Holcombe, of Atlanta, Tex.

The 23-year-old flyer's observer, Priv. Frank Ridenour, 20, jumped to safety a few minutes before the plane spun to earth. After his parachute carried him to the ground, Ridenour quickly organized a search party, which found Holcombe's body.

'PRAY FOR ME,' AL CAPONE ASKS

One-Time Gang Czar Gets Religion, Pastor At Prison Says.

SAN PEDRO, Calif—(AP)—Religion has come into the life of Al Capone, the one-time Chicago gang czar, it was disclosed today by a Baptist minister who preached last Sunday at the government's new Terminal island prison.

Rev. Silas A. Thweatt said Capone was the first of 16 men to rise to his feet when he asked if any of them felt the need of a Savior, and was one of about 75 who signified by upraised hands that they desired his prayers.

"As prison rules forbid us from approaching more than 10 feet from the men, I could not talk with Capone about his spiritual needs," the pastor said.

SUSPECT JAILED

Letter Leads To Capture of Father of 4 In Murder Case.

CHICAGO—(U.P.)—Four detectives who found Vernon E. Oldaker, 43, Mineola; N. Y., five hours after their arrival here with a Chicago-postmarked letter as their only clue, returned him to New York, today as a suspect in the robbery-slaying of Miss Anna Louise McKee, 59, wealthy godmother of his four children.

Authorities said Oldaker had once boarded at the McKee home.

Bloodhounds Put On Trail Of Wyoming 'Wild Man' Killer of 4

(By Associated Press)

CODY, Wyo. — Bloodhounds were counted on today to pick up the trail of Earl Durand, 26-year-old slayer of four, who fled his mountain stronghold 40 miles north of Cody before it could be blasted with howitzer and trench mortar fire.

"I think we can pick up the trail with the hounds, said Sheriff Frank Blackburn after a 100-man posse had closed in on Durand's retreat and found him gone.

"If not, a bunch of us will stay up there until we get him," said the Park county sheriff, leader of the search for the elusive, eagle-eyed tarzan who took to the northwestern Wyoming hill country a week ago last night after killing two officers.

The bodies of Orville Linabary, 42, of Cody, and Arthur Argento, 46, of Meeteetse, Wyo., were recovered late yesterday from an exposed slope below the natural fortress in Clarksfork canon from which Durand had held possemen at bay for nearly 24 hours. The two possemen died of bullet wounds drilled in their abdomens by the sharpshooting fugitive soon after he hid in a clump of boulders and trees at the top of the slope.

Sheriff Blackburn said Durand slipped down sometime before daylight yesterday and took two rifles and a pair of shoes from his victims.

The sheriff reduced his posse to 15 or 20 picked sharpshooters today—to give the fugitive fewer targets.

2 EX-CONVICTS HELD ON FAKE MONEY CHARGE

$300 in Counterfeit Bills Found on Pair Arrested by City Detectives.

Puzzo, One of Suspects, Was Figure in News-Journal Bombing 5 Years Ago.

Two Mansfield men, both reputed underworld characters and one a figure in the bombing of The News-Journal five years ago, were held in Cleveland today for arraignment on charges of possessing counterfeit money.

The pair, Joseph Puzzo alias Joe Brizzi, 32, and Frank Nota alias Joe Rock, 44, both of 50 Columbia avenue, were arrested by Detectives Lee J. Remy and Oscar Krupp yesterday as they drove away from their home in an automobile.

The officers said they found the men in possession of $300 in counterfeit bills, including 44 $5 notes and eight $10 bills.

Taken to Cleveland.

Agents of the U. S. treasury, notified by Police Chief Meade K. Bates of the arrest, arrived here late yesterday and immediately took the men to Cleveland before they could be questioned by officers here.

Remy and Krupp said they traced several counterfeit notes which had made their appearance here several months ago to Puzzo and that they had had him under surveillance for some time. They added that Rock only recently had returned from Florida and had been staying at Puzzo's home.

While both men were declared by officers to have "long" police records, the data on Puzzo, who was the central figure in the bombing of The News-Journal in 1933, could not be found in the identification bureau today.

Both Served Time in Pen.

Puzzo, described by police as the "key man" in the bomb plot was sentenced to the Ohio Penitentiary in the fall of 1933 for violating his parole on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, police said.

Rock at the present is wanted by the state as a parole violator. He was sentenced to the penitentiary in February, 1936 from Columbus to serve from one to 15 years on a charge of burglary and larceny. He was paroled Dec. 30, 1937.

REAL SUMMER

Temperature's at 74 and It's Due to Go Even Higher.

It was more like July than March today as an early spring "heat wave" sent the temperature up to 74 degrees at noon for the highest mark of 1939.

Mansfielders shed their heavy clothing and started planning their gardens. The "heat wave" moved in from the west where the mercury yesterday climbed to record marks for March. Kansas City reported 84 to equal the reading at New Orleans. Cincinnati had a top of 80 yesterday, the same as Miami, Fla.

In Mansfield where the top was 68 degrees Thursday, there was every indication that the mercury would approach 80 today.

The weatherman predicted the warm weather would stay over the week-end, bringing showers Saturday.

Judge Huston Opens His Own Campaign On 'Easy Divorces'

Common Pleas Judge C. H. Huston made it known today that he has started his own anti-divorce campaign in Richland county.

Refusing to divorce a young Bellville couple this morning, the third divorce suit he has rejected this week, Judge Huston asserted that "This court intends to put a stop to these hasty marriages and promiscuous divorces."

A similar policy was adopted recently by H. S. Culbertson, Ashland county's new common pleas judge.

Judge Huston, who frequently is able to effect an agreement between quarreling husbands and wives before their cases come up for trial, pointed out that in a large percentage of the divorces he grants, the parties are married again within a few months.

"Usually they don't get along the second time, either, so there's no point in wrecking two families," he said.

After dismissing the petition of Mrs. Helen Oyster, 17, of Bellville, who accused her husband, Harold Oyster, 21, of neglect and cruelty, Judge Huston told them to go back and live together and attempt to "patch up their differences." Married since 1937, the couple have no children.

In Jail Again

Joseph Puzzo, alias Joe Brizzi, 32, above, who was arrested here yesterday with Frank Nota, alias Joe Rock, 44, with $300 in counterfeit bills in their possession, was held in jail in Cleveland today awaiting arraignment before U. S. Commissioner B. D. Nicola. The picture of Puzzo was taken in 1933 at the time he was held in the News-Journal bombing.

HUTCHINS NEW SEC CHAIRMAN?

Youthful Chicago University President Offered, Accepts U. S. Post, Capital Hears.

(By International News Service)

(Copyright, 1939.)

WASHINGTON — Robert M. Hutchins, youthful president of the University of Chicago, has been offered and has accepted the chairmanship of the Securities and Exchange commission, made vacant through elevation of William O. Douglas to the supreme court.

Selection of Hutchins was revealed to International News Service by unimpeachable sources in the educational circles of which the Chicago university head is a member.

Announcement of Hutchins' appointment to the commission will be withheld until after the senate confirms the nomination of Douglas to the high court.

Long a staunch advocate of liberalism in the field of education, Hutchins has been a frequent supporter of New Deal reform measures, particularly those affecting finance.

Administration liberals consider him the ideal choice to fill the SEC vacancy. He say eye-to-eye with Douglas on government regulation of Wall Street and other financial marts.

Although both are 40 years of age, Douglas was a protege of Hutchins. While the latter was dean of the Yale university law

AKRON SCENE OF $200,000 BLAZE

Rubber Reclaiming Plant Ruined As Grass Fire Spreads.

AKRON—(U.P.)—Three fire companies today poured water on the ruins of the Buxbaum company's rubber reclaiming plant where an all night fire caused damage estimated at $200,000.

A group of one-story buildings, with about three acres of floor space, were destroyed. The fire was discovered at 6:31 p. m. Thursday and by 8:15 p. m. a general alarm had called all available fire-fighting appartus to the plant. Firemen from Coventry and Cuyahoga Falls were called into Akron stations to protect the rest of the city.

The fire was believed to have started outside the plant, probably from a grass blaze. It spread to a pile of scrap rubber, then to three box cars, and into the plant.

SHERWOOD TO FIRE WOODARD SOON, BELIEF

Welfare Director Intimates He Will File Charges If Warden Won't Quit.

CALLS 2ND CONFERENCE

Penitentiary Head to Confer With Boss Again Today; Promises Fight.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS—Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood indicated to newsmen today that he had decided to file ouster charges against J. C. Woodard, suspended warden of Ohio penitentiary, but declined a definite statement.

"I probably will not file charges today," Sherwood said. "I have not asked Woodard to resign—yet. Don't forget that 'yet'."

Meet Again Today.

The welfare director, who said "unwarranted conditions" prompted the warden's suspension, said he probably would confer with Woodard again later today and "discuss the situation."

The two conferred in Sherwood's office for 10 minutes late yesterday but neither would say what had been discussed. The 66-year-old warden did not resign, Sherwood said later.

Suspended March 2 for 30 days during an investigation of "unwarranted conditions" at the midtown prison, Woodard has indicated that he would fight ouster proceedings.

W. F. Amrine, state superintendent of corrections, has been serving as acting warden while conducting the investigation at the direction of Sherwood.

Liquor Sold, Charge.

In reports to the welfare director, Amrine said his investigation disclosed that inmates had more of less free access to sources for obtaining liquor, that gambling went on behind the prison walls, and that certain inmates were granted favors by guards.

Amrine also declared that counterfeit money had been manufactured by convicts. The acting superintendent described several pieces of material found in the prison as molds used to make the counterfeit money.

Dismissals and suspensions of several guards have resulted from the investigation so far.

WORKMAN WINS

Irish Favorite Cops Grand National; 10 Win $150,000.

AINTREE—(AP)—Workman, one of the Irish-bred favorites owned by Sir Alexander Maguire, today won the 101st Grand National Steeplechase before a crowd of more than 250,000. Capt. L. Scott Briggs' MacMoffat was second, and the highly regarded Kilstar from Dorthy Paget's stables third.

Cooleen, carrying the silks of J. V. Ranks and fourth last year, again finshed in the same position with A. Donn's Dominick's Cross fifth in a field of 37 that started.

Workman, which went to the post at the odds of 100 to 8, finished three length in front of MacMoffat after running with the leaders from the start. MacMoffat, a 25 to 1 outsider, was another 15 lengths in front of Kilstar, 8 to 1 choice.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Ten ticket holders in the United States won prizes of $150,000 each today in the Irish hospital sweepstakes when Workman crossed the line first in the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England.

SHAKES LONDON

Explosions Rock Medical Center In Britain; No Casualties.

LONDON—(INS)—A score of violent explosions and a fire in the medical store shed of the Royal Military College of Science shook a wide area around the college and Woolwich common today.

The blaze caused a number of gas cylinders to explode. The store shed was demolished.

There were no casualties.

The Rome newspaper Il Piccolo, in a dispatch from Burgos, said the surrender of Madrid was planned for tomorrow. With Madrid's surrender, Spanish Nationalists believed, the rest of Republican Spain would make no further effort to prolong the struggle.

Slovaks Mark Time On Border Invasion.

BULLETIN

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia—(AP)—The Slovak defense ministry today declared the Hungarian-held town of Sobrance had been bombed and one Hungarian plane brought down in fighting in eastern Slovakia. Sobrance is seven miles west of the Carpatho-Ukraine border from which Hungarian forces have penetrated Slovakia.

BRATISLAVA, Slovakia—(INS)—Slovakian government authorities waited anxiously today for Berlin's reaction to word that Hungarian troops have advanced into Slovakia.

Meanwhile, observers felt that a Hungarian reply to a Slovak note of protest did little to clear the air.

The protest sent by Bratislava to Budapest contended that Hungarian forces had no right to invade Slovakia, especially in view of the fact that Hungary was the first government to recognize the Slovakian declaration of independence at the time the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia was completed.

Slovakia also contended that no act had been committed justifying the Hungarian invasion. The note pointed out that the German government had been informed of the Hungarian troop movements. It was felt the implication of this would not be lost upon Budapest, since the reich has undertaken by treaty to protect Slovakia.

In reply to the Slovakian note, the Hungarian foreign minister, Count Stephen Csaky, said an immediate investigation would be held and that Bratislava would be informed of the result. He added, however, that Slovakia's eastern frontiers had not been fixed and that this circumstance might cause local incidents between Slovaks and Hungarians.

Germany to Take All Rumanian Products.

BUCHAREST — (AP) — Germany has won the right to all products of German-Rumanian companies to be established in Rumania to exploit new oil fields and other industries.

This is the nearest approach to monopolistic concessions given to Germany in the five-year trade agreement, reached Wednesday, a synopsis of which was issued yesterday.

The agreement in effect extends German commercial enterprise to the Black Sea by giving the Nazi state free ports on the Danube and the Black Sea.

Rumania meanwhile continued defense precautions today and reservists proceeded to concentration points under the movement ordered yesterday.

It appeared that the functioning of the German-Rumanian companies would be more or less out of Rumanian control—but Bucharest authorities said Rumanian commissioners would be in a position to put the brakes on the operation of other features of the plan should German influence become too great.

Some Rumanians were concerned by the prospect of an influx of German technical experts and workers, fearing that they might become propagandists for political co-operation with Germany. No political conditions were mentioned in the synopsis of the agreement.

The trade treaty was regarded by many as the framework of an economic plan capable of filling many of Germany's needs for raw materials.

FORMER MAYOR PAID TRIBUTE

Shelby Stores, Offices Close During Funeral Services for C. E. Morris.

SHELBY—Business was at a standstill in Shelby today as the city paid tribute to Councilman Charles E. Morris, 69, former mayor.

City offices and stores were closed during the funeral services held this afternoon for Mr. Morris at the home with Rev. A. B. Allison of the First Presbyterian church officiating.

Pallbarers were Mayor D. B. Young, Councilmen Charles Swanger, John Chew, Kenneth Rothlisberger and Chester Bell and Police Chief Leroy Coffey. Burial was made in the Oakland cemetery.

A host of city and county officials, members of the First Presbyterian church, which he served as a trustee, and civic, fraternal and political organizations paid tribute to Mr. Morris at the home Thursday evening.

A resolution in memory of the late city official will be adopted at a special meeting of council called by Mayor Young at 8 p. m. today.

Meanwhile, council members joined in asserting today that no serious consideration had been given the question of naming a successor to Mr. Morris.

The name of Clarence Imhoff had been mentioned, but it was pointed out that it is a custom of Shelby council to name a new member of the same political faith as the person whose place he takes. Mr. Morris was a Republican and Imhoff is a Democrat.

U. T. C. SCORES LICENSE PLAN

Asks City Council to Amend Ordinance Affecting Solicitors.

Opposition to a proposal now before city council calling for the licensing of canvassers and solicitors was voiced today by the Mansfield council of the United Commercial Travelers of America.

In a petition filed with Council Clerk William J. Beer, jr., the council charges passage of the measure in its present form will interfere with the transaction of business by bona-fide commercial travelers in that they would be "burdened, annoyed and harrassed" in the performance of their business duties.

The ordinance which has been given two readings is scheduled to come up for final action April 4. If passed and signed by Mayor Claude M. Hunter it will become a law in 30 days.

The petition presented by Atty. Raymond J. Brown, chairman of a committee appointed to represent the U. C. T. seeks to have the ordinance amended to allow for exemptions as provided in a similar ordinance now in effect.

The committee also includes John W. Kennedy and Frank L. Kohler.

The exemptions asked for persons who offer for sale any articles or products of their own manufacture or of their own raising.

It also asks the exemption of persons who have served as a soldier, sailor or marine in the service of the U. S. during the Civil war, Spanish-American war or the World war, or to persons holding a license issued by the county auditor, or to sales made to dealers by commercial travelers, or persons selling by samples only.

DEATH CLAIMS NICHOLAS SONER

Dies at Home After Brief Illness, Was Native of Austria.

Nicholas Soner, 62, of rear 23 Fern avenue, died at his home Thursday evening after a brief illness. Born in Austria, Nov. 7, 1876, Mr. Soner had resided in Mansfield 25 years. He was employed at the Humphryes Manufacturing company. There are no known relatives.

Funeral services will be held at the Rumanian hall, Lida street, at 2 p. m., Saturday, with burial in the Mansfield cemetery. The body will be removed from the Jones funeral home to the hall this evening.

RESUME MEETINGS

Surviving are his wife, Theresa; a son, Frank; a daughter, Rosalie, of Mansfield, and a sister in Italy.

Funeral services will be held at the St. Peter's Catholic church at 10:30 a. m. Monday with Msgr. R. C. Goebel officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield Catholic cemetery. The body will be at the home after 2 p. m. Saturday.

ANNUAL PARK DINNER MONDAY

Association to Have Landscape Architect and Engineer as Speakers.

Arthur H. Alexander, chief of the Division of Landscape Architecture for the City of Cleveland, and W. J. Russell, manager of engineering at the Mansfield Westinghouse plant, will speak at the annual Mansfield Public Parks association dinner Monday night at North Lake park.

During the program an award will be made to the Liberty park card team, winner in the recent card tourney sponsored by the parks association.

The Liberty park team, which also finished first last year, needs only one more win to obtain permanent possession of the W. C. Mead cup. The team this year finished the season with a score of 35 points, against 31 for Prospect park in second place, 28 for North Lake park in third, and 26 for Johns park in fourth place.

Individual high scorers in the tournament were C. E. Beal of Johns park in bridge and J. A. Fisher of Liberty park in pinochle.

The program Monday night will be presented following a dinner at 6:30 p. m. in the North Lake pavilion.

Mrs. Thomas Taylor conducted the business session, and prizes in the contests were awarded to Mrs. W. L. Parkinson, Mrs. Cleo Hainer and Mrs. Paul Freer. Mrs. Parkinson has invited the club members to her cottage at Chippewa lake for the June meeting.

Work of Missions Told At Class Meet

There were 11 members and one guest of Circle No. 1 of the Park Avenue Baptist church present for a meeting of that organization yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. M. Alderson, 152 Wood street.

After the 1 o'clock luncheon, Mrs. Wallace Campbell conducted the regular monthly business session. Mrs. D. C. Cole was in charge of the devotions. During the afternoon, Mrs. Lawrence Todd gave a talk on the work of the foreign missions in India. The time and place of the next meeting will be announced later.

RE-ELECT OFFICERS.

When members of the Ladies' Aid society of the United Presbyterian church met in the church parlors Wednesday, they re-elected the present officers to serve for another year. Mrs. Orlan Hoyer will be the president, with Mrs. R. D. Anderson and Miss Maude Stewart assisting as vice presidents. Miss Chatties Sullivan and Mrs. Edward Craig were re-elected to their offices of secretary and treasurer, respectively.

W. C. T. U. MEETING.

Mayor Claud M. Hunter, Philip Wolfe and M. S Casto were the guest speakers yesterday evening at a meeting of Iota Sigma, W. C. T. U. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Young were host and hostess for the covered-dish dinner, which was held at the Mansfield Union Gospel Mission at 6:30 p. m. During the evening the Woodson Four, colored quartet, sang a group of negro spirituals. The next meeting of this orgenization will be with Mr. and Mrs W. B. Newbert, 712 Bowman street, on April 26.

LUNCHEON MEETING.

One o'clock luncheon at Apple Lane Inn on the Ashland road was an event of yesterday for members of the Tip-Top club. Pinochle was in play at two tables during the afternoon, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. L. L. Linkhart, Mrs. C. E. Smith and Mrs. J. W. Peyton. The meeting of April 20 will be held at the home of Mrs. R. C. Baker, 362 Harker street.

WIFE DIES, KILLS SELF

DAYTON—(U.P.)—Harry Canter, 29, followed his bride of 13 days in death by 40 minutes. Mrs. Lois Canter, 21, died in a hospital following an operation yesterday and her husband's body was found later in his automobile. He had shot himself through the heart.

150 AT DINNER

Area Officials Attend Scout Affair in Crestline.

CRESTLINE—Over 150 Crestline Boy Scouts and their parents attended the sixth annual "parent and son" dinner last night at Crestline high school.

During the dinner six new scouts were taken into the troop. They are Stanley McCune, Ray Deems, Robert Strauch, Donald Simmermacher, Donald Krichbaum and Jack Sharp.

Short talks were given by five Johnny Appleseed area officials. They were Floyd Dent, executive; C. I. Kimmel, commissioner; L. A. Ott, president; Philip Smith, Mansfield district commissioner, and D. D. Montoya, area field executive.

The program included a piano solo by Albert Smith; French horn solo by Lloyd Weaver; vocal solo by Paul Kindinger; tap dance by Shirley Wamsley; violin solo by Robert Smith, and a review of scouting history in Crestline by Edwin Weiss, junior assistant scoutmaster of the troop. M. V. Snyder, chairman of the troop committee, acted as toastmaster.

GALION — Pearl Jourdan had been brought to her home here from the Osteopathic hospital in Cleveland where she has been a patient for several weeks.

CITY OUTLINES ROADWAY OILING PLANS FOR 1939

Berg Says Measure Will Call for Work on 168 Streets and 91 Alleys.

The oiling of 168 streets and 91 alleys this spring, involving approximately 25 miles of roadway and constituting one of the major items on the 1939 street maintenance program, was outlined today by George Berg, chairman of council's street committee.

An ordinance calling for the oiling is being prepared by the street committee and will be ready for the approval of council at its April 4 meeting, Berg said.

Same As Last Year.

He explained that the oiling process will not get under way until warmer weather arrives—probably not before May 1 and maybe not until June 1. The program includes practically all unimproved roadways in the city and represents identically the same program that was carried out last summer.

All roads included in the oiling program are to be scraped and graded to a smooth condition after frost has left the ground before the coating is applied.

The city already has contracted for the purchase of approximately 80,000 gallons of roads oil to be used during the summer. This is approximately 20,000 gallons more than used on city streets last year.

Books For Children

(Available at Mansfield Public Library)

"The Scarlet Oak" by Cornelia Meigs is the story of a boy who had seen Napoleon. Until he was twelve Hugh had lived in France during Napoleon's reign. Then Hugh and his Mother and brother moved to New Jersey to live with the grandfather. Hugh was assistant gardner on the estate of Napoleon's brother in New Jersey and many interesting and mysterious things happened at that place. The author of this book has written a great many other good books too for readers of all ages.

In "Ann of Bar Ton Ranch" by Elizabeth Stevens we learn of Ann's experiences during fifteen months on a ranch in Wyoming. Ann was about ten years of age and it was sometimes hard for her to think of things to play all alone, but there were also a great many things to do there that she couldn't have done in her Eastern home. By the end of her visit there Ann found it hard to leave her faithful young dog and all her ranch playthings. Girl's about Ann's age will probably enjoy the story the most.

NEW COUNTY CAR

Sheriff's Office Gets Four-Door Plymouth Sedan.

The office of Sheriff E. P. Long received its annual new automobile today from the county for use in law enforcement activities.

The car, a Plymouth four-door sedan, was purchased from the Herring Motor Car company for $827.50. The county, however, received a $325 trade-in allowance on a 1936 Oldsmobile. The sheriff has three cars for use in his department and one of them is replaced each spring.

NAVY QUOTA SET

20 to Be Enlisted From District During Next Month.

Twenty young men from the Cleveland naval recruiting district which includes Mansfield, will be enlisted in the United States navy during April, it was announced today by recruiting officials.

Applicants must be between the ages of 17 and 24 years of age and American citizens. Men enlisted will be transferred to the Naval Training Station, Great Lakes, Ill., for a 12-weeks period of training in the fundamentals of navy life.

Buttons Will Remind Her of Richland Friends

Miss Edna Hoover, who has resided in Bellville for the past 10 years and who will return to her home in Denver within the next two weeks, is making a collection of buttons which will be a "memory chain" of the friends and neighbors she will leave behind. She no whas more than 700, all given to her by friends and representing some phase of their family history.

BUTTON COLLECTION TO REMIND HER OF FRIENDS IN BELLVILLE

Collecting buttons isn't an unusual hobby, in fact there have been button fanciers ever since pre-historic babies cut their teeth on the stone pegs that daddy used to hold up his leopard skins, but the button collection of Miss Edna Hoover, Bellville, has a meaning a little out of the ordinary.

Because some day those neat little cards of odd buttons will be the "memory chain" between her home in Denver, Colo., and old friends in Bellville, and each button is a reminder of a neighbor and friend, or some phase of her life in Bellville for the past 10 years. She came to Bellville 10 years ago to care for a relative who died recently and will return to Denver next month.

Miss Hoover started the collection about two months ago and already has about 700 buttons, all carded and identified.

The idea started when Miss Hoover found a button that had been on her grandfather's wedding coat. It is a big flat gold button and adorned the dignified black broadcloth wedding suit of Jackson Eby in 1841.

Another wedding outfit is represented on the same card. It is an exquisite concave gold button decorated with a carved wreath of silver, and was used on the wedding dress of Mrs. Elizabeth Horn in 1879. A big pearl button, said to be 150 years old, is the oldest in the collection.

The older the buttons the more exquisite the workmanship. There is a Pirot and Pirette button—minute figures of the two lovers in gold, dancing on a slender crescent moon, and another of a knight in armor, a tiny golden figure on a silver button. A spray of lillies-of-the-valley in silver are heavily embossed on gold on another button.

The collection has several dozen hand carved jet buttons, some with cameo figures and others with intaglio figures. The figures are varied—and Indian head with feather headdress, a crescent and stars and one with a wise owl perched on the moon. Even the tiniest figures are perfectly carved as to detail. Some of the jets are etched with gold and silver and others are decorated with cut steel.

Among the pearl buttons are some in pastel shades and others have fine etchings on them. The oldest buttons are made of bone. There are a few old glass buttons and several wooden ones of peculiar shapes and designs.

In the collection are a half dozen hard rubber buttons, made long before rubber tires were manufactured for autos.

All of the buttons, with the exceptions of a few in her own family, were given to Miss Hoover by Bellville people and represent some phase of their family history.

LEGISLATOR, 24, FLOOR LEADER

Youthful New Mexico Solon Carries Out Duties With "Efficiency and Poise."

(By United Press)

SANTA FE, N. M. — In Joe Montoya, Sandoval county Democrat, the New Mexico house of representatives boasts the youngest floor leader believed in any state legislature in the nation.

Montoya, now 24, is serving his second term, and fellow members of the house reported that he carried out his duties as floor leader with "notable efficiency and poise." During both terms as a representative he has been the "baby" of the legislature.

The Pitt of the New Mexico general assembly was born Sept. 24, 1915, in the village of Pena Blanca, N. M. He has been a resident of Bernalillo, near Albuquerque, for the last 14 years.

He was educated at Regis college in Denver and completed three years of work at the Georgetown university law school in Washington. Since the present session of the legislature opened, Montoya has finished his academic work by correspondence and received his law degree. He took two days off from his legislative duties to pass the New Mexico bar examination successfully.

The young lawyer was accorded a formal resolution of congratulation the day he came back to lead his Democratic contingent through its legislative battles.

Montoya is national committeeman for the Young Democratic league in New Mexico and is associated with Democratic organizations in New Mexico and in Washington.

Legislative measures which he sponsored dealt chiefly with tax problems, including automobile and motor fuel taxes. He has been influential in steering through the house several bills relating to irrigation districts and administrative economy.

Shrinking German Trade.

SO MUCH has been said about Germany's gains under Hitler, and particularly as a result of his grabbing Austria and Czechoslovakia, that the attendant losses are sometimes overlooked. In the long run the losses may be more important to the Nazi regime than the immediate victories.

Germany's vital trade agreements, completed or in the making, with Great Britain and France, and hoped for in the case of the United States, have been cancelled or postponed as a direct result of the latest German expansion. This means that Germany cannot easily revive its crippled export trade or recoup its needed foreign exchange.

The reich has, of course, enlarged its own free trade area to the southeast, but at a cost which may prove disastrous. Hitler is playing a desperate game with the chance of winning growing more remote.

Protected Information.

THE British government has taken a step toward greater freedom of the press. Hitherto the Official Secrets Act has made it possible to compel a newspaper man to reveal the source of published information. A bill recently introduced in parliament would restrict the application of the act to espionage cases only. Interest in such a law follows the prosecution of a Manchester reporter who refused to name the official who had given him details of an official memorandum.

There have been a number of recent cases in this country in which newspaper men were questioned about sources of information. Whenever the problem has reached the courts for decision in some specific instance, the reporter's right to silence has been upheld as an essential part of the freedom of the press.

It is interesting that the British press, which is generally less free than ours, is to attain this particular safeguard by parliamentary action.

Dogs That Run Loose.

AT THIS time of year—every year—complaints are numerous about dogs being permitted to run loose.

In some instances these roaming dogs are "strays," but mostly they have owners and are properly licensed.

Complaints are usually from persons whose lawns, yards, flower beds and gardens are invaded by one or more dogs—possibly a dozen in a pack—and who are naturally incensed by the resultant damage.

It is rather difficult to understand how otherwise fine people, and good neighbors, can be so unmindful of the reasonable rights of others as to allow their dogs to become nuisances in the neighborhood—as has been specifically reported in a number of instances.

Nor is it fair to fine, friendly dogs to be thus stigmatized by the negligence of their owners, rather than through any fault of their own.

It has been quipped that an essential in training a dog is that the trainer must know more than the dog. Similar requirement might also be made applicable to dog ownership.

Adapt Capitalism to New Conditions.

SOME people have reached the conclusion that the depression afflicting most of the world in recent years is "a major crisis of capitalism." They suggest that inherent defects in the capitalist system have been coming to a head, that private capitalism, as some of them say, "is destroying itself" by its excesses. And the most pessimistic of them say that, while governmental action may correct defects temporarily, or slow up the process of collapse, there may be no real cure—that it may not be possible to save free enterprise and economic individualism.

If this were true, our civilization, as least in the highly industrialized countries, would be really in a bad way and democracy, in both business and government, would seem to be doomed. But is it true?

There are at least a couple of alternatives to adopt, instead of any such pessimistic view.

First, is the possibility of adapting ourselves to new conditions by new methods within the frame and practice of capitalism. That is, to correct obvious evils in our economic system, bring business and government into more effective co-operation, get rid of injustice and waste, honestly adopt a gospel of plenty instead of a practice of scarcity, pass goods around more freely, and thus develop a new phase of capitalism that really will work.

Second alternative is to get nations out of the war industries and war psychology, and have them concentrate on the production of real wealth and useful services instead of war materials and military operations. Release from war fears and war production alone would be a long step toward prosperity.

Those Who Make 'Authority.'

NEITHER a slave nor a rebel is wanted in a democracy says Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher, now teaching in this country.

"It is clear that too much discipline is not a good thing if you want to produce a population capable of democracy. If you want to get people into the habit of initiative, of thinking for themselves and not taking their opinions from others, you must get them into the attitude of neither subservience nor rebellion against authority, which is natural in a man who feels that he is part of what makes authority."

There is a great stabilizing power in that feeling—that the citizen is himself "a part of what makes authority." And because Americans in general have always felt so, our government has existed in its present form longer than any other government in the world.

Watching Trends

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—If there were interesting questions in Europe instead of merely appalling ones, one interesting question would be whether Mussolini has not waited too long to press his demands for territory.

An official to whom we talked said: "If I could answer that, I could tell you whether there will be war in Europe."

The implication was that what Hitler now is doing in his march toward the east does not carry the threat of war that Mussolini's activities do. Hitler is moving in on little fellows whose independence it is impossible to save without running the risk of a world war.

But if Mussolini moves, that is another question. There is virtually no move he can make of any importance which does not at once carry a threat to Britain and France. And the meat on those bones is tender meat, not to be prodded roughly, even by totalitarian states.

• • •

Nazi Support Uncertain.

WHEN he had the undivided attention of Germany, Mussolini was in a better position to press his claims. But he always had to make up his mind whether he could depend upon Hitler's support in event he pressed his demands for African and Mediterranean territory. It has been a tough decision to make. France and England have not made it any easier for him. They have made very plain to Mussolini the risks he might run in event he guessed wrong as to Hitler.

For some weeks now segments of the British home fleet have joined the French fleet and the British Mediterranean fleet in patrolling the Mediterranean. They have patrolled it almost as if war already had begun.

The patrol has had two effects. One has been to prevent any mine laying by Italy in the path of French or British operations. Perhaps none was intended by Mussolini but he is being told, in the language of battleships, that he cannot do it.

The other effect is psychological. Both Germany and Italy have tremendous air power but they have not yet demonstrated that they can whip a fleet with it. Our own navy seems pretty certain that airplanes cannot sink battleships, although they can put down smaller craft.

• • •

Duce Didn't Know.

WITH a concentration of enemy battleship strength in the Mediterranean at the outbreak of a war, Italy would be in a critical plight.

Now Hitler is busy about his own affairs. There is some intimation in dispatches abroad that Mussolini, although knowing of the general plan, was not kept advised of Hitler's intention to move so soon. If he had known of such imminent action, would he have delayed so long in pressing his own claims?

• • •

The outbursts of indignation against Germany's seizure of Czechoslovakia have a certain value, by remote control. One army that looms as toughest for him to beat is the army of merchants in other nations to whom he must look for trade. And every public indictment directed against him carries a wallop at his most vulnerable spot—foreign trade.

Such stinging words as were poured out by Acting Secretary of State Welles hit in the Germany trade territory of South America as effectively as any words might, as this country is in the best position to meet the German expansion there.

"The government of the United States," said Welles, "has emphasized the need for respect for the sanctity of treaties and of the pledged word, and for non-intervention by any nation in the domestic affairs of other nations; and it has on repeated occasions expressed its condemnation of a policy of military aggression."

Although directed partly at Germany, those words were meant mainly for the effect on Latin America, where this country has yet to assuage a lingering discomfort about our intentions. We, too, once were an imperialistic people.

Ohio Anecdotes

First Canal in Ohio.

The first shovel-full of earth which began construction of Ohio's widely-known canal system was dug on the Fourth of July, 1825, at a spot three miles from Newark.

Celebrities met at Newark before proceeding to the site included: Gov. DeWitt Clinton of New York, father of his state's canal system, Gov. Jeremiah Morrow of Ohio, former governors Thomas Worthington and Ethan Allen Brown of Ohio and Thomas Ewing, later Ohio senator. At 11 o'clock they led thousands of Ohioans, flanked on both sides by a company of cavalry, to the selected site.

After Ewing gave an address, Adfred Kelley, one of the canal commissioners, presented Governors Clinton and Morrow each with a spade. Together, they broke the ground, amid the cheers of 10,000 onlookers.

THE FOUR HITLERS

Block Exports to 'Stop Hitler'

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

The Washington administration's opinion is that Herr Hitler has bitten off more than he can chew, as the saying is. He's an ambitious biter, but the White House suspects that this time he'll choke on his own mouthful unless he's left to masticate it very gradually. And the notion is to joggle and annoy him until he strangles. Dropping the metaphor, can't he be bothered, just as he's trying to swallow, to such an extent that his home folks will put an extinguisher on his greed, regardless of any effort by outsiders? That's the thought back of Treasury Secretary Morgenthau's order slapping a 25 per cent punitive tariff upon a lot of German imports into this country. The intention is to make the Berlin dictator gag and regurgiate over his Czechoslovakian gobble. While he's doing so he isn't likely to have breath to do any additional gobbling. In fact, he may have to let go of what he's got already.

Adolf himself is authority for the statement that Germany must "export or die." Our punitive tariff policy's purpose is to throw a crimp into the Fatherland's exports, letting the Teutons die, as per the Hitlerian prediction. "Why," as Chairman Pittman of the senate foreign relations committee has asked, "take the trouble to shoot a man when you can more easily starve him to death?" Not that there is an inclination to starve Germany to death. The plan is to starve it into jettisoning Herr Hitler.

Program a Legal One.

It's a legal program. Our tariff law permits us to impose penalties against countries that are subsidizing exports into the United States, which Germany is trying to do, into the U. S. and elsewhere, under its barter dickers.

While our anti-German punitive tariff order actually was issued by Secretary Morgenthau, it goes almost without saying that it was in line with President Roosevelt's utterance to the effect that there are "many methods short of war" to bring to the attention of "aggressive governments the sentiments of our people."

The decree has Secretary of State Hull's and Attorney General Murphy's o. k. I think it has the bulk of Congress' likewise.

True, it's a bit safer for us to take a "sassy" attitude toward Germany than it is for Britain and France, which have capitals subject to air raids from Berlin. Still, London and Paris seem to be about at the end of their patience. So does Moscow. So, too, do several little peoples, like the Dutch, Swiss and Rumanians. I don't think the Yugoslavians, the Poles or the Hungarians feel any too secure in Germany's neighborhood either.

As for South America, we already have Brazil lined up on our side, and some others of those republics our way. In short, Germany economically can be isolated. And it can't stand it.

No Raw Materials.

In raw materials Germany is poor.

It has workers and machinery.

It has the equipment to turn out finished products, but nothing to produce them from. It has the labor and plants for stuff to employ them on. It's left marking time otherwise. It has plenty of exports of manufactured goods to export—if it has anything to manufacture them from.

It's acquired some raw material areas in Czechoslovakia, but the populations of these areas are largely anti-German—meaning domestic difficulties.

Hence: Isn't Herr Hitler due for internal friction pretty speedily?

There's no especial reason why the Japanese should be classed as anti-German—except that the Japs took advantage of the World war to take Kiau-Chau, on the Chinese east coast, away from the Kaiser; that might have left a sore spot. But perhaps Herr Hitler can forget it.

As to relations between Hitler and Mussolini?

Nobody who's followed the news can but guess that Adolf has 100 per cent euchred Benito.

The question is:

Hasn't Adolf, perhaps, overdone himself? Not necessarily internationally?—but possibly intra-nationally? Is Germany itself solidly back of him? One can't tell—with a suppressed press and public speech muzzled. Those folks haven't the faintest idea of what the rest of the world thinks of them. They may find it out ultimately.

Timely Editorial

An Education For $12.50.

It is a good story that Senator Josh Lee of Oklahoma tells about himself, that as a youth he saved $12.50 from his work on the farm, went to college four years on that amount, when there was no national youth administration, and "when I graduated I had spent every cent of that $12.50."

But there are others who could tell equally good if not even better stories. There was, for example, the young fellow who went to college with $18 in cash, spent the usual four years there, then emerged with his diploma and $30 in cash.

Still another, who had gone through the four years "on his own," left for a law school, 1,000 miles away with only his railroad fare (it was too early for hitch-hikers), completed the 3-year course and had enough money to return to his home by rail and with a new suit of clothes for a good start in his practice.

Many of our young friends in the colleges of today would duplicate these narratives. We wouldn't say that self-reliance had been killed by kindness.—Kansas City Star.

As Others See It

Remindful.

The administration's strange wooing of business somehow recalls the villain in old-time melodrama, who, having horsewhipped the heroine and tied her to the tracks, says, "Why do you refuse meh?"—Detroit News.

Out-of-State Concern.

Evidence of counterfeiting, gambling and inside traffic in liquor and narcotics has been found in the Ohio penitentiary. We trust there were not listed among the prison industries. —Kansas City Times.

Clinic Treatment on "Group Plan."

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

I have been reading an interesting account by Dr. Walter R. Bett of reminincences of the great London hospital of St. Bartholomew's. With all the complaints that we hear about the medical profession and dispensary practice today, it is illuminating to compare them with the happenings in the dispensary of St. Bartholomew's as short a time ago as 1868, when the resident apothecary was in charge of what may be described as the wholesale treatment of patients.

When all the patients who applied for treatment in the morning had been gathered together in one room, the apothecary would enter and ask all those who complained of a cough to stand up, whereupon he gave them a cough medicine. He then asked all those who had the bellyache to stand up, and he gave them some kind of house physic for that.

The nurses were of the kind of Sarah Gamp, and on account of their overweight, heavy facial features and waddling gait, were sarcastically referred to as "fairies."

Made Report.

In 1877 a certain Dr. Robert Bridges was appointed to the post of casualty physician. He made a report a little later in which he pointed out certain abuses. In three months he had seen 7,735 patients and the average time spent on each was 1.28 minutes.

"With the lowest estimate of female garrulity," he wrote, "one may recognize the grandeur of the feat accomplished in giving separate audience to the troubles of 150 women in three hours and a quarter." And he remarked that most of their troubles were brought on by indiscretion, for which the cure would be discretion. Most of them preferred Epsom salts.

Didn't Seek Source.

They had many cases of a peculiar atomic dyspepsia in machinists due to long working hours in stale air, and eating cheap, miscellaneous food, but in spite of the number of cases nobody ever went to the source of the trouble and tried to clean up the industry. Instead, they gave them a routine mixture of quassia and iron.

When Bridges made his report of these conditions, he hoped that without living to the millenium, one might see the day when such conditions would be considered fabulous and incredible. The reading of this report had one result, which was that Bridges was never again offered another appointment at the hospital. However, he managed to obtain the position of poet laureate, and although his output was meager, he remains one of our most sensitive medical poets.

—By GEORGE ELLISTON

Honeymoon Castle.

Just two rooms we have for this
Dear love that is ours,
I will scrub them, they shall be
Lovely as rare flowers.

Pots and kettles, these shall glow
Silvery, so bright
Shall they shine, and windows will Smile in lucid light.

Here, my love will make for you
Such a paradise
Home will be your peace and joy,
Wonder and surprise.

"He Walked a Little Way Apart."

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

IT GETS me down, sometimes—all the hurry and the worry and the pressure of these dizzy days. Makes me feel as you so often feel . . . as if I'd lost my bearings.

Everybody wanting everything and all at the same time . . . Mad people, bad people, sick people, sad people, all asking help—and what can I do for them, who am so needy and bewildered myself?

Queer admission for a newspaper woman to make? Maybe. We're supposed to be a brass-knuckled tribe. Yet you'd be surprised. Often the Hardest-boiled Egg is just a Cup Custard under the skin! And so, many a time—when I'm putting on the bravest front—I'm all gone inside . . . reaching, like a lost kid, for something—anything—that'll restore my lost grip on things.

And when times like that come, there's just one phrase that helps me most. A short phrase—only six words—yet it holds, I believe, the secret of the most generous and courageous life the world has ever seen . . . the life of Jesus of Nazareth.

A poor boy—born in obscurity—hampered and heckled by every kind of cruelty and corruption during those three, brief years of His ministry; what miracle was the source of His strength, serenity and unstinted service? No miracle at all—just this, I think:

"He walked a little way apart."

Again and again, as His story unfolds, one comes upon that phrase. At every demand on His gentle strength, at every test of His gallant spirit, one finds Him following the same trail in His search for rest and re-creation of body and spirit. Invariably He would leave the clamorous crowd . . . turn from the pressure of heat and haste and—

"—walk a little way apart."

And, having walked, He always would return—renewed . . .

So many scenes. A jostling crowd . . . foul rags and running sores. Sick men on litters . . . beggars in whining droves. A leper fumbling, with his blind, blank face and rotting stumps of arms. A sneering general in his chariot. A princess carried on the bleeding backs of slaves. A sobbing, starving mother with her dying babe. A man who moaned, "Oh, Master I believe—help Thou my unbelief!" A sick world clutching at His single store of strength and faith! Where did He find the answer that He gave . . . the strength which healed the blind and cured the lame and lifted dead men from their sealed tombs?

"He walked a little way apart!"

He turned away, a moment, from that tortured throng . . . and all that draining sense of hurt and hate and wrong—and bared His heart. And, in the quiet, felt His Father's presence fill Him—like a song!

Oh, Father, help me, too,
To turn my heart
From sin and pain—
And in the silence
As I walk apart
Help me to find
Thy healing peace again—
And so be cleaned
Of my own
Amen.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Monday, March 24, 1919.

Blackstone, the magician, opened three days' engagement at Opera House.

C. K. Ink bought the Marion Kissel farm, north of Mansfield.

Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson was coming into prominence as "Female Billy Sunday."

Twenty-third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Siefley.

William Wolfarth was promoted to captaincy of No. 4 fire station.

Box of books was being packed at public library to send to base hospital at Camp Sherman.

John Long moved from Butler to 159 Penn avenue.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Saturday, March 24, 1934

Secretary of Commerce Daniel C. Roper defended New Deal policies before Richland County Jeffersonian club.

Names of 1,100 Mansfield voters taken off the list because of failure to vote for two consecutive elections.

A bandit held up the West dry cleaning establishment on Vennum avenue and robbed Anna May Massa, cashier of $45.

Dick Lersch, Stewart avenue, won the pole vaulting contest at the indoor track meet in Toledo.

Miss Lourene Cochran and Earl Jones, both of Mansfield, were married at Decatur, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Terman, north of Mansfield, entertained 100 friends on their 44th wedding anniversary.

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—However much you may have listened to Indian fakirs, probed Hindu mysticism, or knocked around with the black arts, take it from Dale Verner—there is no such thing as the Indian rope trick.

This has been one of the fabulous lies of the last 200 years, and travelers coming out of the orient have sworn they have witnessed it. Yet fortunes have been offered to anyone able to perform it, and as yet no takers have been found.

Verner is a member of the Society of American Magicians, and if you didn't see him in Radio City Music Hall recently you will run into him eventually. He is one of those easy, smooth fellows who can work, seemingly, all day without running out of tricks. He scoffs at the rope trick, as all accredited magicians do, and admits that tricks that fool the mind appeal to him more than the others.

The greatest thrill any magician can have is fooling another magician. When fellow craftsmen crowd around and inquire, "How was that done, Joe?"—then, he says, you are having real fun.

He likes "apparent" mind-reading tricks, but doesn't believe there is actually such a thing as being able to read another's mind. Card tricks, like jokes, are endless. They all spring from five or six basic roots, and it is up to the operator to go on from there.

• • •

AN interesting point he makes is this: the real test of a magician comes when a part of his apparatus breaks down while facing an audience. This throws you into a tough spot. The finished workman can overcome any obstacle and still pull the bird out of the hat. Such accidents are fortunate, really, because they teach self-reliance and build confidence.

I was very much interested to know that the first instance of commercial magic on record took place hundreds of years ago when fakirs, who were really fakers, visited the homes of parents with unintelligent children.

They posed as doctors and assured the parents that, for a consideration, they could cure backwardness in adolescents. Wherefore they made incisions in the luckless patients' heads and produced several stones, which they had palmed, claiming these were found in the brain.

If the patient lived he was more witless than ever. However, he usually died. That, in so far as anyone knows, was the beginning of "magic."

• • •

VERNER has an interesting routine in that he works entirely with music . . . His act fits the music, and therefore is unlike other acts where the music has been written especially for the performer . . . It is sleight of hand stuff, mostly, with swirling capes and all the usual magic equipment. He comes in to a jaunty air and strips off his gloves, and tosses the gloves into the air. These immediately become a white dove which circles the audience and returns to its master.

Fakery? Sure. Absurd? Sure. But it's fun, fun for all ages, for old and young, and they eat it up. Pardon me but isn't that a cobra climbing out of your vest pocket?

A Farmer's Diary

One Woman's Hobby.

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

SHE is a retired farmer's wife, who lives in a nearby village. Her family of six children is grown and scattered. The acres where she and her husband spent their early years are in younger hands, and time hangs heavier for her than it used to do.

I stepped onto the porch of the neat little house, where she and her husband live, and had raised my hand to rap when, from within, I heard the lines, "A fire mist and a planet, and a cave where the cave men dwell . . . some of us call it Evolution, and others call it God."

So reverently and so meaningfully were the words read, in a rather high pitched voice, that I paused, involuntarily, to listen. I could not catch every word, but I knew that she was reading Herbert Carruth's poem "Each In His Own Tongue," and my curiosity was aroused.

I rapped, and the lady herself came to the door. She is a small, gracious person, and as I was seated comfortably I remarked about an open book of poems upon the table.

She flushed. "I guess you heard me. It's a habit I have," she explained. "I'm here alone a good bit when my husband is on the road, and learning poems keeps me from thinking too much about myself. I say them to him, when he comes in," she added. "If you learn a good thing by heart, you can't lose it. It comes in handy when the nights are long, too."

"You don't always learn an entire poem?"

"No—of course not. Often just a stanza or two," and she read me parts of "Snowbound" and "To a Waterfowl" beautifully, with the interpretation that only years of life can give. Her thin face was animated, and her dark eyes glowed with feeling beneath her waving white hair.

"The radio disappoints a person, sometimes," she said. Good poems never do. It's just an old woman's hobby, I suppose, but it does me good."

I thanked her. She held within her heart the golden key to happiness, and had told me quite simply of a great adventure. I thought of Browning's lines, "Grow old along with me! The best is yet to be . . . The last of life for which the first was made."

MOVE TO CURB WILD DRIVING

Nist and Bates Confer on 2nd New Motorcycle to Check Traffic Violations.

Plans for the addition of a new motorcycle to the police department in an effort to curb reckless driving in the city was revealed by Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist today following a conference with Police Chief Meade K. Bates.

With the parking problem well in hand, the two officials discussed the necessity for stricter enforcement of traffic regulations in general following the receipt of numerous complaints from pedestrians of reckless autoists.

Nist said that the police department has a five-year-old machine which is disabled and which he will ask city council within the near future to trade in on a new motorcycle.

A new three-wheeled machine recently purchased will be used exclusively to check on parking, he added.

The addition of a new motorcycle would provide for enforcement of traffic regulations throughout the city.

Meanwhile Bates plans to "break in" one of the patrolmen to operate the new three-wheeled motorcycle so that Patrolman C. W. Kyler, who is assigned regularly to traffic duty, can handle the general enforcement work.

NEW TRAFFIC LIGHT ORDERED

City Will Install Signal at Intersection of West Sixth and Mulberry Streets.

Plans for the installation of a traffic light at West Sixth and Mulberry streets at the cost of approximately $250 was announced today by Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist.

The new signal of the three-bulb type was ordered today and is expected to be delivered to the city within the next week or 10 days.

Nist said that installation will be started by City Electrician Ernest Adams as soon as the new equipment arrives.

He explained that there had been some agitation in council for the light for several months and that since Bowman street was to be closed temporarily for the construction of a new bridge by the county, it was deemed advisable to make the installation.

Nist said that a reflector to be installed on the south side of East Fourth street, opposite Wayne street, also had been ordered.

JEWISH STATE ON 4TH LARGEST ISLAND URGED

Purchase of Madagascar Held Solution to Problem of European Refugees.

(By United Press)

ROME—The Prince of Anjou, scion of the Russian branch of the celebrated French family, believes the Jewish refugee problem can be solved by the purchase of Madagascar and the creation of a Jewish state on that island.

"The French island of Madagascar," the prince said, "would prove the most suitable territory for a future Jewish state able to take care of the Jews of the whole world.

"Madagascar," he continued, "has a superficial area of 627,327 square kilometers (228,000 square miles, which is twice the size of the British Isles, and the world's fourth largest island. It has a population of only 26,000 white persons. It has fertile soil and a splendid climate."

Cost Within Reason.

France, the prince suggested, would be willing to sell the island at a price which the wealthy Jews of the world could afford. He suggested the projected Jewish state could become an independent nation or remain under a form of limited French protectorate.

"In such manner," the prince continued, "the Jewish question could be finally solved on a solid and practical basis. The Jewish race would thus possess a state twice as large as England, Scotland and Ireland, with an extremely fertile soil with endless commercial prospects."

The prince declared that the Jewish question "which has poisoned the existence of certain nations for centuries" can only be solved by the creation of a Jewish state.

"The Jewish race," he said, "has like other nations, the sacred right to have its own country. It is a great mistake to try to assimilate the Jews in nations where they live because the Jewish race cannot be assimilated.

"There never has been and never can be a Jewish Englishman, Jewish Frenchman, Jewish German, but only English Jews, French Jews and German Jews. All the measures which the different nations provide for adopting Jewish refugees are not radical soultions but useless palliatives which settle nothing and in the long run will prove equally noxious to the adopting nations and the Jewish race."

He believes Zionism fundamentally is wrong because Palestine is neither rich nor large enough to handle the Jewish problem.

"Furthermore," he added, "Palestine is in the possession of Arabs in the defense of whom the entire Mussulman world will rise."

STROLLS FOUR MILES IN SLEEP

Girl, 16, Tells Bizarre Kidnaping Story After Nightmare.

YAKIMA, Wash.— (INS) —Clad only in a nightgown and a pair of stockings, a 16-year-old girl walked four miles from home in her sleep and roused a slumbering family to tell them a bizarre story of being kidnaped amid a hail of gunfire. Investigation by police revealed that the harrowing story had been a nightmare. Her family told of their daughter's frequent wanderings in her sleep, but she had never before gone so far from home.

House Drive to Force Labor Act Revision Bogs Down

SHUN PETITION TO PLACE BILL UP FOR DEBATE

Dems, G. O. P. Ignore Move to Escape Responsibility for Congress Battle.

BACKGROUND

In spite of agitation of individual members and the A. F. of L., neither senate nor house labor committee has yet seriously considered legislation to repeal or revise the Wagner labor act. Confident that a majority of the house wanted action, Rep. C. Arthur Anderson (D) of Missouri, invoked the discharge petition rule in an effort to call his own revision bill to the house floor.

* * *

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—A house drive to force action on proposed revision of the Wagner Labor act by the discharge petition method, bogged today as both Democratic and Republican factions refused to accept responsibility for a determined battle on the issue.

But four members of the house had signed the petition of Rep. C. Arthur Anderson (D., Mo.) to discharge the labor committee from consideration of his revision bill and bring it to the house floor, despite the fact that he began his drive two weeks ago.

Four Who Signed.

The four members placing their names on the petition to force a vote were Anderson, Reps. Burdick (R.) and Lemke (R., N. D.) and Hoffman (R., Mich.) Signatures of 218 members must be placed on the petition to make it effective.

While the house labor committee has refused to consider Wagner act changes, the senate labor committee is slated to make a final decision Tuesday on the question of conducting hearings.

While Anderson was optimistic over chances of action, Hoffman, a foe of the present National Labor Relations board, was pessimistic.

"I plan to make a speech next week and make a real effort to obtain signatures to the petition," said Anderson. "We will get a lot of them before we are through."

Hoffman asserted that both Democratic and Republican members were reluctant to risk their political futures by joining in a movement to revise the act.

"If we could get a secret vote, the house would overwhelmingly change the Wagner act," said Hoffman. "The trouble is that members are afraid of labor. Even some members who owe their election to the A. F. of L. refuse to come forward.

"The peace negotiations between the A. F. of L. and CIO appear to have caused some members to stay on the fence, to see which way things go. If there is peace, however, John L. Lewis and the CIO will swallow up the A. F. of L. There can't be any peace but a Hitler peace, with the A. F. of L. agreeing to the terms of Lewis."

The drive for amendments to the wage and hour act also was slowed in the house labor committee, in spite of recommendations of Administrator Elmer F. Andrews for some changes in the law.

Members of the committee freely predicted that the committee will abandon such proposals of exemptions of small telephone exchanges and exemptions for small food processing plants, because of fear that congress will add scores of exemptions if a bill reaches the floor.

REJECTION DUE

A. F. of L. to Refuse CIO Proposal on Jurisdiction Belief.

WASHINGTON — (U.P.) — The American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations resume peace negotiations today. The A. F. of L. probably will refuse the CIO's request for wider jurisdictions for its unions as the first step toward a reunited labor movement.

The A. F. of L. executive council has been in special session here for two days preparing its answer to the CIO's jurisdictional suggestions.

SEE MINSTRELS

300 Attend Show Presented by Westinghouse Group.

An audience of about 300 attended the "Carolina Minstrels" presented last night in the Senior high school auditorium by the Westinghouse Glee club and sponsored by the school.

Proceeds from the show will be used to purchase new drapes and roller blinds for the auditorium and to help finance the renovation of the auditorium.

Heading the performance was the comedy team of Lawrence Chamberlain and Maurice Stretch.

CROWD ATTENDS GALION LECTURE

Author Tells How Three 'Unknowns' Rose to Power in Europe; Conducts Forum.

GALION—A near capacity audience at Senior high school greeted Louis Bromfield, American novelist and Pulitzer prize winner, last night when he lectured here under the auspices of the Scroll and Quill, national honorary scholastic journalism fraternity.

"While predictions for the future of Europe are uncertain," he said, "History repeats, and much that has happened in the past will be repeated in the future."

Bromfield, who recently returned to his native Richland county after 15 years abroad, has fraternized with statesmen, politicians and newspaper men from every European nation and is well qualified to talk on the affairs of Europe.

He said that he had seen the rise, in the past ten years, of three men who were unknown a decade ago to the most powerful dictatorships the world has ever known. He gave colorful pictures of each of them—Stalin, Hitler and Mussolini.

Bromfield said he could see the possibility of Mussolini lining up with France and Great Britain if the proposition is a good one. "The hope of the Roman empire seems to live in the Vatican," he said. "About Spain there is little known of what is going on. It is expected that when the Nazis and Fascists leave that country, it will fall into disorder again, and then England and France will step in."

"England is disintregating and bit by bit losing her hold on her colonies." Bromfield said that Chamberlain had a curious faith in his own ideas and that as a result of not listening to others, Czechoslovakia, Austria and Memel were the price.

50-50 WORKS OUT

87 Per Cent of "Partnership" Marriages Successful, Expert Says.

COLUMBUS — (AP) — A "50-50 democratic relationship between husband and wife" was the recipe for domestic bliss held out today by Dr. Paul Popenoe of Los Angeles.

He told the Ohio Institute on family relations last night that a five-year study of "marriages in the educated part of the population" showed 87 per cent were successful where "there was a genuine partnership between the man and the woman."

FLOOR CAVES IN

8 Injured As Rummage Sale Crowd Weakens Timbers.

NEWPORT, Ky. —(AP)— Eight persons were injured, three severely, today when a storeroom entrance collapsed under the weight of a crowd awaiting the opening of a rummage sale.

Police who investigated reported the recessed entrance to the room gave way, catapulting a portion of the throng to the basement. Of three women most seriously hurt two remained in a hospital.

'TWO-GUN MAN'

EAST LIVERPOOL —(U.P.)— A 13-year-old boy who armed himself with a .22 calibre rifle, two boxes of shells and 85 cents, and then set out into the "wild west" to join his father in Nevada was sought by police today.

William Boring, also known as Dewey Bunnell, jr., was seen by two boys as he bounded a freight train. The boy had expressed a desire to join his father in Elko, Nev., after he received a letter from him.

FINED $100 ON DRIVING CHARGE

Tappan Pleads Guilty Behind Closed Doors; License Revoked for Year.

Russell L. Tappan, 33, of 219 South Mulberry street, was fined $100 and his driver's license revoked for one year when he entered a plea of guilty this morning to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol through his counsel, Atty. Joseph A. Bayer.

The hearing was held behind closed doors in the private office of Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch. City Solicitor Marion D. Ward who was present did not call any witnesses nor the four arresting officers, all of the third shift, who went off duty at 8 a. m. but waited at police headquarters for the hearing.

Atty. Joseph A. Bayer, Tappan's counsel, addressing the court, pleaded for leniency on the grounds that Tappan was not guilty of a "flagrant" violation of the law. He said that Tappan was the main support of his parents and needed his automobile in connection with his work.

Bayer said his client had entered the guilty plea because the evidence showed that the defendant had drank "at least" three bottles of beer the night he was arrested.

Tappan was arrested by police March 12 following an automobile collision at Lexington and Mendota avenues. The case was twice continued.

After a series of postponements several weeks ago, a case against Tappan involving a charge of leaving the scene of an accident was dismissed by Judge Kalbfleisch on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Ex-Mansfielder Slugged, Robbed In Cleveland Home

Mrs. Ruth Laser Eckert, 36, former Mansfield woman, was back at her home in Cleveland today after spending several days in a hospital there as the result of being slugged and robbed by an intruder in her home.

Mrs. Eckert, who is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Laser, 710 Bowman street, resided here until 10 years ago.

She told Cleveland police she was jerked from a ladder in her home Tuesday, while she was sandpapering a wall, by a strange man who knocked her unconscious and fled with two diamond rings, one valued at $300 and her wedding ring valued at $100.

Mrs. Eckert was found by her husband, William, when he returned from work. It was believed that the man gained access to the house with the apartment key which had been stolen last week.

She has two brothers and sisters in Mansfield, Clifton and Glenn Laser and Mrs. William Neubert and Miss Betty Laser.

PRODUCE MANAGER FINED

Pleading guilty in municipal court today to a charge of possessing and offering for sale misbranded merchandise, William Marcus, manager of the City Produce and Commission company, was fined $10 and costs. Marcus was arrested yesterday on a warrant signed by inspectors for the state department of agriculture who charged that he had offered for sale potatoes not marked in accordance with the grade standard established by the state.

Epworth Leaguers Represent County In Drama Festival

The Epworth League of First Methodist church will represent the Richland County Yopedio at the annual state drama festival, sponsored by the Christian Youth Council of Ohio Saturday and Sunday in Columbus.

The league will present the one-act religious play, "The Terrible Meek," which won first place in the Richland county drama festival March 5 at Senior high school.

Members of the cast are Alice Mathews as the woman, Maxwell Miller, the captain, and John Pfahler cast as a soldier. The play is directed by Mrs. Charles Ray and the stage and light crew for the production is made up of Howard Ray, Edward Maxwell and Albert Rimmer.

The plays will be presented at the East Broad Street Presbyterian church with the Mansfield group scheduled to present its play about 9 p. m. tomorrow.

BOOK PASTOR

LUCAS—Dr. Grover E. Swoyer, pastor of the First Lutheran church of Mansfield, has been named as the speaker for the annual commencement of Lucas high school, it was announced today by Supt. V. Leland Gilliland.

The Lucas graduation ceremonies, to be held on May 25, will take place in the new school auditorium, according to the announcement.

Dr. Swoyer will be the first speaker to address a Lucas commencement in several years. Graduation ceremonies here for the past several years have been confined to class day programs.

GREETS OFFICER

Salvation Army Welcomes New Divisional Commander.

More than 100 members of the Salvation Army from Ashland, Mt. Vernon and Mansfield attended a program of welcome last night at the local citadel for Brig. William A. Spatig, new divisional commander.

Brig. Spatig succeeds Lt. Col. E. C. Hoffman who was recently transferred from this district. The program was in charge of Major James Coates, divisional secretary.

Addresses of welcome were given by Corps Cadet Jeanette Bryant, representing the young people, Mrs. William Ayers for the soldiers and local officers, and Adjt. Fred Elliot of Ashland, speaking for the corps officers.

The program included selections by the Sunshine trio of Akron, directed by Mrs. L. Rickard, and a cornet solo by Lieut. George Harvey of Akron. Major D. R. Brown of Mansfield gave the invocation, and Adjt. Paul Hoffman of Mt. Vernon read the scripture.

ASK BRICKER'S VIEWS ON OHIO RELIEF TANGLE

Committeemen Plan to Meet With Governor to Get Fund Raising Ideas.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — Advice of Gov. John W. Bricker on how to raise funds for poor relief will be sought next week by the legislative committee appointed to study conditions and draft an 18-month program.

The committee is particularly desirous to learn what suggestions the governor has for enabling local governments to raise funds for matching state relief grants.

Sen. Don R. Thomas (D-Montgomery), whose motion for a conference with Governor Bricker was adopted by the committee, said "we ought to find out from him what we can do and how far we can go."

Cites Tax Policy.

"It has been stated in the papers," he added, "that the governor would not sanction certain enabling legislation (to permit local communities to levy new taxes for relief) and, in fairness to him, we should find out what plan he would offer."

The committee, ending its public hearings late yesterday, found it could not complete its work before April 10, Chairman Lawrance A. Kane said. It has been asked to report by April 1.

Representatives of cities contended in the hearings that they could not pay their share of relief unless legislation was enacted to enable them to raise additional funds.

On the other hand, interests which would be affected opposed suggestions of special local levies, diversion of motor vehicle revenues and an increase in real estate taxes.

The committee heard estimates of 1939 relief costs ranging from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, provided Work Progress Administration operations are not curtailed sharply. O. P. Can Schoik, chief relief examiner in the state auditor's office, said the cost might mount to $30,000,000 if the WPA rolls were reduced seriously.

Administration leaders have expressed a desire to limit the state's share of relief expenditures to $10,000,000 a year.

FALLS, SUES VILLAGE

FREMONT — (U.P.) — Perry A. Freeze of Green Springs today filed suit in common pleas court here against the village of Green Springs, asking $10,000 in damages for injuries allegedly suffered when he fell on the sidewalk there on Jan. 5.

NEWSMAN KEEPS PROMISE, JAILED

Cameraman Refuses to Tell Court Where He Took Pictures.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn.—(AP)—Promises he made not to reveal where he took some pictures of a cockfight had Photographer Robert Brown of the Chattanooga News in jail today.

Because the 30-year-old photographer refused to tell the Hamilton county grand jury about the pictures, Criminal Judge Charles W. Lusk yesterday ordered him jailed for contempt until he was "willing to give this testimony."

Professing embarrassment at his position "of defending something I don't approve of and something my paper does not approve of," Brown spent the night in the county jail.

HOLD ELECTION

Westinghouse Employes Name S. G. Bushman President.

S. G. Bushman, 173 Wolfe avenue, was elected president of the Westinghouse Employes association at an organization session last night at headquarters on East Fourth street.

Bushman, who is employed in the tool department at the Westinghouse plant, has been chairman of the executive committee of the association since the group was organized 18 months ago. The first officers were selected last night.

Julia Valentine was chosen secretary of the association and Russell L. Yarman was named vice president.

Bushman said the association has nearly 1,300 members and would seek sole bargaining rights at the Westinghouse plant.

NAMED REGISTRAR

SHELBY—Attorney W. R. Morris today had been appointed deputy registrar of motor vehicles to succeed the late Charles E. Morris.

7 ENTER PLEAS TO INDICTMENTS

Crawford Judge Sends Morral Resident to Pen on Charge of Sheep Theft.

BUCYRUS—Seven persons, indicted by the grand jury last week, were arraigned before Judge C. U. Ahl Wednesday and entered pleas.

One was sentenced to the Ohio penitentiary and one placed on probation. The others entered pleas of not guilty.

Granville Holbrook, 25, of west of Bucyrus, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny and was placed on probation for two years. Kermit Brady, 29, of Morral, O., indicted on the same charge, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in the Ohio penitentiary. Both were charged with the theft of 33 sheep from the farm of C. F. Hoover, south of Bucyrus.

Ralph McFarland, indicted for neglect to provide, pleaded not guilty and his case was not assigned for trial. His bond was fixed at $250.

Parmenas Watts, indicted for non support, pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for April 5. Bond was fixed at $500 and his counsel appointed.

Ralph Knapp pleaded guilty to a non support charge and his hearing was set for April 11. Bond was fixed at $500 and an attorney assigned to represent him.

William Fannin, indicted for non support, pleaded not guilty and bond was set at $500. His case was not assigned for trial.

CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT.

LONA LOOKED as pleased as an excited child when the evening for Dinah's party came finally, and she stood before her mirror patting the waves into her brown hair. She was wearing her wedding dress, and her cheeks glowed with a flush that made her eyes look as dancing as Dinah's own.

"You're as excited over this shindig as you were over your own wedding," Jim complained as he struggled with his tie. Peering over her shoulder, his eyes met hers in the mirror, and she bowed to him demurely.

"Do you think they'll like me, sir?" she asked, and laughed as his big arms closed suddenly about her slim body.

"Like you?" His voice was husky. "I'm afraid they'll like you too well, girl. I've half a notion not to let you go. You're mine, do you understand that? Mine . . . ."

"Jim, you're hurting me!" Secure in his possessiveness, she struggled away coyly. "You'll muss my dress. Let me go! You're like a big bear," she scolded.

"A bear that likes his honey," he shot back nonsensically, and they both laughed again. She had never laughed so much in her life, Lona thought, as she lifted from its box the trim corsage of rose buds Jim had brought home for her to wear.

"Like it?" he asked, serious again, as she fastened the fragrant circlet to her belt.

"It was sweet of you to think of it, Jim," she told him. "I'm glad you brought one for Dinah, too. She loves it." She stood on tiptoe and gave him a kiss; a trim, tantalizing little peck on the forehead that brought a protest.

"Is that all I get?" he chided her. "Next time I'll bring you a bouquet of wild flowers."

They were still giggling like a couple of children as they went, hand in hand, across the hall to the Morriss living room. From behind the closed door the sound of voices and the bubbling of laughter indicated that the gaiety was already under way. For a moment the fear of people Lona had developed in her long, lonely years of reticence almost overcame her, but she shook it off determinedly. Was she to be that way always, she wondered? Always to bear the scars.

* * *

It was a crowded living room into which they were ushered by a smiling Mrs. Morriss. Dinah, enthroned in her chair like a reigning queen, was silhouetted against the draped windows. She pulled Lona over to her possessively and went through the introductions with an air.

It seemed odd to hear herself called Mrs. Bennett, Lona thought, as she nodded and smiled, and tried to associate the names she had heard in Dinah's chatter of the past few days with the laughing young people about her. The girl in blue with the straight black hair must be Ethel Harmon. That would be Louis Davis beside her. He ran the garage on Main street. Over on the divan was a curly-haired boy named Jones.

"One of the Jones boys, you know," he told her, solemnly, as they were introduced.

Out in the dining room, hovering over the great punch bowl which graced the white-clothed table was another young man, tall and anxious looking. He was making a great ado of stirring and tasting, and Lona knew he must be Bobby Graves. Pinky, the piano player, was not yet in evidence.

* * *

Two of the girls were sisters. They dressed alike in demur ruffled frocks and seemed comically inseparable. They were Evelyn and Madelyn Arnold, daughters of the Brighton undertaker. "Ev" and "Mad" the rest called them. Sitting beside the Jones boy on the divan was a stately young woman in a black dress, smoking a cigaret with ostentatious ease.

"Mrs. Davis," Dinah named her. She was the wife of the garage keeper, and she eyed Lona's simple frock with a frankly appraising look. Her lazy glance quickened when Jim was presented to her, and she took a nonchalant puff of her cigaret before she ground it out on the ashtray beside her and sat up with a suddenly determined air that brought a laugh from the crowd.

"Alice always goes for every man," Dinah explained quite matter-of-factly and with no trace of malice, and the woman smiled agreement.

"I like them tall, dark and mysterious looking," she drawled in a throaty voice.

Jim bowed stiffly. "At your service, madam," he offered, and they all laughed again.

They were a merry, carefree gang, Lona found, as she sat beside Dinah's chair and smiled at the antics of the Jones boy, who was trying to draw her out on the dance floor. Before the party began, the rug had been rolled up neatly, and beneath it, the polished floor lay bare and gleaming. They had begun to dance to the unsatisfactory music of a radio program while they waited for Pinky to put in his appearance. He was, it seemed, unaccountably late.

"He promised to be here at 9," Dinah told them, frowning a little. "I can't imagine what's keeping him."

"He'll be fined if he's not here in 15 minutes." Bobby Graves consulted a wrist watch firmly. "The only piano player in town and he has to be late. It's outrageous! We ought to drink up all the punch on him." He suited action to words by draining his glass and going back for more. When he returned he had an inspiration.

"You look like a pianist," he told Lona. "Bet you're holdin' out on us. Come on, give us a tune."

"Sorry," Lona laughed. "I'm afraid I'm not a musician. I can play 'Chopsticks' and 'A Maiden's Prayer,' but you can't dance to those."

"How about the husband?" He crossed to Jim hopefully.

To Lona's surprise, Jim allowed himself to be coaxed to the piano. Ushered by the irrepressible Bobby, he draped his long frame on the bench with a half apologetic glance at her amazed face.

"They laughed when I sat down at the piano, especially my wife," he bantered. "You see, I've never told her about my past."

"Lad-ies and gen-tlemen!" Bobby insisted upon ceremonious. "I am ex-TRE-ME-ly happy to present to you the attraction of the evening. We have with us tonight in the flesh, a real, live, cowboy singer and yodeler, who will entertain you with some genu-INE songs and—er—yodels, fresh from the range. Cowboy, do your stuff!"

Jim cleared his throat ostentatiously as the room fell into an interested silence, and Lona felt panicky. He had never told her he could sing. What if he were only joking and they had taken him seriously? It would be embarrassing.

* * *

He grinned at her teasingly and in an exaggerated western accent culled from the stage and radio, drawled a slow, "How-d' ye do, pardners. . . . Seein' that you-all crave entertainin' ah'll do ma level best t' give you some of th' old songs of the range. But it's been a long time—a most mighty long time sence ah been back out where men is men an' women knows their place. An' ah kinda fergets th' old songs, so yo'll have t' fergive me af ah ain't jest up t' snuff. Ah'll do the best ah kin." His fingers had strayed into a low obligato as he spoke the last few sentences. In a clear, baritone voice that was almost irredible to Lona, he began to measure out a plaintive strain.

"Home, home on the range! Where the deer and the antelope play, Where never is heard, a discouraging word . . ."

He sang it sadly, hesitantly, breaking a little, as if it revived memories that hurt, and a hushed silence hung over the room. When he had finished, he sat for a moment, his head down, his hands still on the keys, and Lona felt her heart go out to him suddenly, as it had never done before. He looked homesick, and she never had realized before how much adrift he was. She had been too busy with her own troubles to consider his.

He looked up at the crowd, then, and smiled, and the spell was broken. Applause broke out, and they swarmed over to the piano, begging for more.

"Why didn't you tell me?" Dinah reproached Lona from her chair, and Lona shook her head laughingly.

"He's shy about it," she explained, unwilling to admit that she, herself, hadn't known.

"Give me my boots and saddles!" he was rollicking out now, laughing, breaking occasionally into an unearthly peal of yodeling that sent the listeners into gales of laughter. For a full half hour they kept him at it. He went through the whole repertoire of cowboy ditties from "I'm a lone cowhand" to the plaintive "Empty saddles in the old corral." Crowded against the piano they sang with him, like a group of carefree children.

Attempts to Get Soft Drinks; Sees Firemen Instead

SHREVEPORT, La. — (INS) — When a Shreveport woman decided she wanted a soft drink, the result was a general fire alarm that jammed Shreveport's streets with fire apparatus.

The woman stopped her car at a curb-service drug store near Centenary college. She honked her horn to bring out a car-hop.

A car-hop turned in a fire alarm.

Somebody else got excited and telephoned the fire chief to report: "Centenary college is burning down."

A general alarm was sent out. Engines, hook-and-ladder trucks, salvage crews and the chief's car, siren going full blast, sped to the scene of the supposed conflagration.

It took six policemen 45 minutes to find out what happened.

The customer never got her drink.

SUICIDE THREAT OBTAINS RELIEF

Mother of Seven Gets Action, Council Increases Grant.

HANEY, B. C.—(INS)—When she felt she could no longer feed her seven children on a $25 monthly relief check, Mrs. R. P. Montpellier, 35, appeared before the municipal council and threatened to kill herself.

"I know quicker ways of dying than starving to death," she told startled councilors. "If something isn't done right now I will have to take the only other way." The council made application to have her relief grant increased.

HITLER'S 'MEIN KAMPF' JOINS LIBRARY BOOKS

Unabridged Edition of German Dictator's Autobiography Translated Into English.

A complete and unabridged edition of Adolf Hitler's "Mein Kampf," translated into English and fully annotated has been added to the Mansfield Public library this week.

The earlier edition of the autobiography of the German dictator was only partially translated and contained only about half of the original text.

Most housewives will be interested in two volumes on food which were also received at the library this week. One of "Flavor's The Thing" by Florence LaGanke Harris, former Cleveland newspaper woman and now a syndicated writer, which contains savory recipes from around the world; and the other is "The Working Girl Must Eat" by Hazel Young, providing a modern shortcut to the preparation of good food.

"My Day In Court" by Arthur Train, lawyer and author, covers four decades of his eventful legal career in New York and describes his literary activities as well. The Creator of "Mr. Tutt," the fictional lawyer, tells many tragic and amusing stories of the various malfactors he prosecuted. This is one of seven new non-fiction volumes which were added to the John Baxter Black Memorial collection this week.

"The World Was My Garden" by Fairchild, relates the travels of a world plant explorer and "Music Is My Faith" by David Mannes tells the life story of a musician.

Appropriate For Lent.

Appropriate for the Lenten season is "Sermon On The Mount" by Emmett Fox. "Tree of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page, "The Sticklands" by Edwin Lanham, a story of an Oklahoma family trying to make a living by farming; and "Reaching For The Stars" by Nora Waln complete the Black memorial list. The last named is a story of the author's experinces during a recent four years' stay in Nazi Germany. Her determination to look upon the situation without prejudice resulted in a book which pictures the German people as they are and explains their response to Nazi propaganda.

Other new non-fiction this week includes: "Happy Family" by Levy and Munroe; "Good Housekeeping Marriage Book;" "Let's Set the Table," Lounsbery; "Common Sense In Home Decoration," Maas; "Color In Action," Hicks; "Orpheus In Paris," Kracauer; "Prometheans," Rascoe; "Triple Thinkers," Wilson; "Hex Marks the Spot," Hark; "Philadelphia Folk," Weygandt; "Cast-Iron Man," Styron; "This Is My Country," Christowe.

"Thread of Scarlet" by Ben Ames Williams, a novel of the Island of Nantucket in 1814, tells of David Swain, who had to decide whether to remain neutral with Nantucket or to fight the British. The novel pictures well those lively and trying times.

A more comprehensive historical novel is "Tree Of Liberty" by Elizabeth Page, which covers the period from 1754 to 1806 and describes the westward movement of American settlement.

"As Once You Were" by Arthur S. M. Hutchinson is the story of a man of 50 who determines to enjoy all the pleasures and luxuries he had been denied in youth.

Other Fiction: "Body That Wasn't Uncle" by Yates; "Turn Loose Your Wolf," Foster; "The Bigger They Come," Fair; "English Rue," Girling; "Noise of Their Wings," Kantor; "Deacon's Road," Flint.

G. O. P. Lawmakers Press for Vote on 2 More 'Rippers'

BILL TO OUST MARX PASSES BY 90-38 VOTE

Republican Majority Shows Strength in Beating Down Opposition Forces.

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS — The Republican majority in the Ohio legislature, having demonstrated its invincibility again by shoving the adjutant general ripper bill through the house, today scheduled two more reorganization measures for a vote.

The house will take up the senate-approved bill to reorgnaize the conservation division Monday night. On Tuesday the senate will vote on the proposal to revamp the parole board.

The administration's plans to oust Adj. General Emil F. Marx, the assistant adjutant general and assistant quartermaster general and abolish their "life tenure" were approved by the house, 90 to 38, yesterday with only three deflections in Republican ranks.

The three Republicans who joined the solid Democratic forces in opposition to the bill were Cloyd V. Acton of Preble county, Ralph G. Marshall of Muskingum and Ralph Siferd of Auglaize.

The bill now goes to the senate.

Vote Postponed.

Proponents of a resolution inviting the Dies congressional committee to investigate charges of un-Americanism in Ohio had a vote on it postponed until Tuesday when unexpected opposition developed yesterday.

Opponents, who included both Republicans and Democrats, contended an inquiry by the federal body would "smear" Ohio and its universities. Some argued that if an investigation was necessary it should be conducted by the legislature instead of "outsiders."

The resolution was offered by Sen. Robert A. Pollock in preference to another proposing a legislative investigation.

The senate passed and sent to the house a bill to set up a six-member Ohio development and publicity commission to promote Ohio's industrial, recreational and agricultural advantages.

Sen. A. D. Baumhart, jr., (R.-Erie), its author, estimated the commission would bring millions of dollars in new industries and tourist trade into Ohio.

The adjutant general bill had the endorsement of Gov. John W Bricker.

Its author, Rep. William E Fleckner (R.-Ottawa), frankly said he introduced it for the sole purpose of ousting General Marx.

This led Siferd to ask:

"Are we going to legislate to suit the whims and fancies of one legislator and his constituents or for all the people of Ohio?"

He urged his colleagues "Let's not brand this legislature as job snatchers."

Siferd contended life tenure for the adjutant general and his two top-ranking assistants was essential for proper maintenance of the national guard. Proponents of life tenure said it was advocated by the war department.

Award $80 In Cash Prizes To Window Contest Winners

Cash prizes amounting to $80 were awarded today to the winners of the window title contest which was conducted last week in connection with Spring Display Days. Winners may call for prizes at the office of the Retail Merchants, fifth floor, Farmers Bank building.

Only two women out of hundreds of entries had all of the 42 titles correct. The correct titles were unknown to merchants themselves and the key list was in the hands of only two officials of the Retail Merchants association which sponsored the display event and contest.

Miss Marian Hoffman, 359 Wayne street, won first prize of $40, and Mrs. Burton French, 25 Lincoln avenue, second prize of $15. Both had all the titles correct and awards were made on the basis of their original titles for the "mystery title" in Scattergoods' window. Mrs. Hoffman's, judged the best, was "When March Winds Blow Hold Onto Your Chapeau." Mrs. French's title for the same window was "The Winds Came."

Other winners were: third prize, $10 to William Waibel, 87 Reba avenue; fourth prize, $5 to Mrs. Henry Beilstein, 348 West Fifth street; and $1 each to the following: Mrs. Douglas Norton, 610 West Fourth; Dick Waibel, 87 Reba; Helen Lorow, Fairview hotel; Alexander Hamilton, jr., 214 North Mulberry; Mrs. V. A. McClellan, 464 West Sixth; Meta McClellan, West Fourth; Mrs. John Hoeffler, Park avenue west road, Lois Laubscher, R. F. D. 3; Robert Zwilling, 233 South Diamond, and Miss Mary Swisher, 550 Lexington avenue.

Call on Roosevelt to Lead Economy Drive

Up and Down THE STREET

Mrs. Jane Richards, 94, Ashland nonegenarian, who died this week, was one of the few persons living who has heard, first hand, tales of the American Revolutionary war. She was a granddaughter of Patrick Murray, soldier in the Continental army, who died in Ashland county at the age of 98. During his lifetime she had listened to his reminiscences of the encounters in which he had taken part and the hardships endured by the army in the cause of freedom. She made the fifth generation of her family living, for besides her son and daughter, I. H. Richards and Mrs. Lena Winters of Ashland, there are three generations of grandchildren.

Like most attorneys who can usually find a way around a difficulty, a Mansfield lawyer had to use his ingenuity the other day to avoid violating parking regulations. Rushing out of his office at the last minute to move his car, he took it three spaces down the street only to find that the chalk mark on the tire came up just where it had been. "So I rubbed it out and hoped there was no officer around," he said. There wasn't.

* * *

Don't be surprised if you should see a couple of deer in Mohican state park the next time you go down there—and lots of Mansfielders will probably make numerous visits there with warm weather near. The fire warden at the park reports that he has seen the deer on several occasions, though he has no idea how they got there. (Note to hunters: Don't get any ideas. You can't hunt in a state park, even if you could shoot deer.)

* * *

The general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Ralph B. Chapman, is pitching in with the rest of his staff to complete the renovation project in the lobby. Each afternoon during the slack period, Chapman dons old clothes and wields a paint brush. Chapman doesn't mind aiding in the work, but he protested when a cameraman attempted to take a picture of him in action. In between swipes with the brush, he talked the cameraman out of taking the "shot."

SMOKE BLAMED

Causes Crash of Truck, Car South of Mansfield.

A heavy smoke which obscured the vision of two motorists was responsible for a truck-auto accident on route 39, four miles south of Mansfield at 4:50 p. m. Thursday, in which both drivers suffered minor cuts and bruises.

According to State Highway Patrol reports, the truck was driven by Roswell R. Miller of Loudonville, and the car, driven by Ray Harris of Perrysville, crashed head-on at a slight curve in the road.

Both drivers told patrolmen that the heavy smoke from a nearby field fire, across the highway, made it impossible for them to see up the road. Both car and truck were damaged.

DEATH CLAIMS EX-RAILROADER

Joseph Henderson, Shiloh Resident For Last 10 Years, Was 77.

SHILOH — Joseph Henderson, retired Baltimore and Ohio engineer and native of England, died at his home here this morning after an illness of several weeks. He was 77.

Born in Owlton, England, Mr. Henderson came to the United States 50 years ago, and had lived in Shiloh for 10 years. He was a member of the Rome Presbyterian church.

Surviving are three sisters, Mrs. M. A. Hope, Crosby, England; Mrs. Frances Carpenter, Willard, and Mrs. Jane Greer, Shiloh; seven brothers, John of Dennison, James of Cleveland, William of Ocean Park, Cal., Robert of Willard, Edward of Norwalk, Richard of Garrett, Ind., and Rev. T. C. Henderson of Cleveland. Mr. Henderson's wife died about 10 years ago.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the McQuate funeral home, with Rev. J. C. Campbell officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope cemetery.

6 KILLERS WALK TO DEATH CHAIR

Mass Execution Staged in Carolina for Murder of Prison Guard.

(By United Press)

COLUMBIA, S. C.—Six men died in South Carolina's electric chair today within 45 minutes. They were executed for the murder of J. Olin Sanders, guard captain, during an attempted break from the state prison in December, 1937.

Those to whom the state refused to "show mercy because they showed no mercy" in killing Sanders were:

J. V. Bair, 28, Sumter, S. C.; Clayton Crans, 29, Rochester, N. Y.; William H. Gentry, 25, Summerville, Ga.; Herbert Moorman, 42, Detroit, Mich.; Roy Suttles, 29, Simpsonville, S. C.; George Wingard, 23, Lexington County, S. C.

Prison officials led the men to the chair — one by one — in the order they had entered Capt. Sanders' office when they attempted to force their way out of the penitentiary 16 months ago.

Wingard was the first to die.

"I've made my peace with God," he told witnesses. He was pronounced dead at 6.36 a. m.

When the door opened for Gentry to walk into the death chamber the four remaining called "goodbye Bill." From the death house came the strains of the hymn "Till We Meet With God."

Gentry said his five companions in the abortive break were innocent and that he stabbed Sanders.

Then the others followed. Bair was the last to die.

SUFFERS STROKE IN FIELD, DIES

Jacob Bantzhaff Succumbs Near Bucyrus at Age 62.

BUCYRUS — Jacob Bantzhaff, 62, died at his home two miles north of Bucyrus, Thursday evening after suffering a stroke earlier in the day while working in the field.

Born in Germany, July 19, 1876, Mr. Bantzhaff came to this country in 1903. His wife, Melissa, and two sisters, who reside in France, survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Munz funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday, with Rev. E. H. Lewis officiating. The body will be placed in the mausoleum at Oakwood cemetery.

RITES SATURDAY

Body of Miss Etta Hoover Returned To Ashland For Burial.

ASHLAND — Funeral services for Miss Etta Hoover, 69, former Ashland resident who died Thursday afternoon in the Massillon State hospital, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Gilbert chapel, Ashland. Rev. W. S. Desenberg, pastor of the Third Street Presbyterian church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Ashland cemetery.

She is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jacob Smeltzer and Mrs. Frank Ackerman, both of near Ashland; a half-sister and two half-brothers.

LOWER SOCIAL SECURITY TAX GETS MORGENTHAU'S APPROVAL

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Secretary Morgenthau gave treasury approval today to proposals to lower, temporarily, social security tax rates for the next three years.

In a statement to the house ways and means committee, he said experience with social security had warranted partial abandonment of the reserve system and that therefore, tax rates for the next few years could be less than anticipated when the act was passed in 1935.

He presented three alternate tax rates schedules to the present law, which levies one per cent of payrolls each on employes and employers from 1937 to 1939, one and one-half per cent each from 1940 to 1942, two per cent each 1943 to 1945, two and one-half per cent each 1946 to 1948 and three per cent each in 1949 and thereafter.

His alternative plans included:

1—One and one-fourth per cent each in 1940, one and one-half per cent each in 1941, and one and three-quarters per cent in 1942.

2—One and one-sixth per cent in 1940, one and one-third per cent in 1941, one and one-half per cent in 1942

3—Continue present one per cent rate through 1942.

The alternative plans all provided for adopting the present proposal of three per cent in 1943 or later, but Morganthau said this rate was retained only for convenience because future conditions might warrant either a lower or higher rate eventually and congress would have ample time before 1943 to restudy the problem.

BRINGS RESULTS

Hiring of Deputy Dog Wardens Boosts Sale of Tags.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe had receipts for more than 200 dog tags today as proof that the county's plan of hiring deputy dog wardens on the commission basis is producing results.

Approximately 100 tags were issued in the first three days after the plan was placed in effect slightly more, than a week ago. The 100 issued since then boosted the total so far this year to more than 5,300.

The spurt in tag sales was attributed to a campaign launched by Warden William Miller and his two new deputies, H. S. Baxter of Mansfield, and Roy Kibler of Shelby.

County commissioners, who inaugurated the commission plan, estimated that only slightly over half of the taxable dogs in the county have tags.

FORMER NEWSMAN DIES

CONGRESS BLOC TAKES STEPS TO CURB SPENDING

Asks Roosevelt to Head Move to Retrench After Eccles' Balanced Budget Plea.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—Congressional economy leaders replied to a federal official's challenge to cut spending by calling on President Roosevelt today to assume leadership in a retrenchment drive.

The issue was put up to congress by Chairman Eccles of the federal reserve board, who said that a majority believes prosperity will return with a balanced budget that in a democracy such a viewpoint should be made effective. Eccles repeated his own belief that continued spending is necessary.

Senator Adams (D., Col.) sounded the keynote of the economy group's reply with this assertion:

"Every time congress tries to cut expenditures it runs into administration opposition."

Backed By Harrison.

A similar opinion was expressed by Chairman Harrison (D., Miss.) of the senate finance committee, who said that the American people wanted congress, "acting in co-operation with the executive," to balance the budget swiftly as it was practical.

The house economy bloc, nevertheless, was being shunted aside by a combination of farm district members and proponents of the president's request for a $150,000,000 emergency relief fund.

The chamber was approaching a vote on the record-breaking $1,066,000,000 agriculture department appropriation bill. Farm members quietly were pledging support to the full relief fund in return for promises from city members to refrain from trying to slash the farm bill, which called for $265,000,000 higher benefit payments than Mr. Roosevelt contemplated.

The appropriations committee, by a tie vote, yesterday approved $500,000,000 for soil conservation benefits and $250,000,000 for parity payments to producers of wheat, corn, cotton, rice and tobacco. Under the bill, farmers would be eligible for $43,000,000 more in benefit payments of all kinds than they received this year.

It was on this point that economy-minded members rebelled. They said their laborious task of cutting a million or two million dollars from each appropriation bill so far this year would be more than offset by the action on the farm measure.

READY TO GO

Law Secretaries Complete Team for Spelling Bee.

While the secretaries' team which will take part in the spelling bee at Grotto hall tonight, with a team of Mansfield attorneys as their challengers, is confident of victory, it was necessary at the last minute to go outside the legal secretaries to get up a full team.

Only three lawyers' secretaries were confident enough of their orthographic ability to compete with their bosses, the team, as it stands today, will be made up of Frieda Gorby, Myrtle Booth and Helen Mamber, all lawyers' secretaries; Ann Laubscher and Nita Brandson, Westinghouse secretaries, with Miss Virginia Fox as alternate.

So confident are the lawyers, however, that it wasn't a question of who would compete in the spelling contest, but who was willing to remain out. All lawyers, they maintain, are good spellers.

The contest tonight is being sponsored by The News-Journal, which will give $15 in cash prizes to winners with highest scores.

NEW SCHOOL SITE LOOTED

GALION—Tools valued at nearly $400 were reported stolen last night from a small tool shed on the site of the new East school building here. The tools are the property of the L. M. Leonard Construction company of Columbus. Officials of the company reported the theft to police this morning.

GEN. JOHNSON:

Proposed Laws to Keep Us Out of War Threaten Our Safety and System

—By HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON—On a single day there appeared in congress, in slightly altered form, two well-known schemes to keep us out of war by "passing a law." One is the bill to amend the Neutrality Act. The other is a bill to "tax the profits out of war."

The first makes it a crime to sell anything whatever to a country which the president declares to be at war, except for cash on the barrel-head at an American port.

It also makes it a crime for an American ship to carry freight to such a country, or for American ships or citizens to travel in zones declared by the president to be combat areas if the president forbids, or for any person to buy or even sell securities of a power at war.

* * *

The tax bill confiscates by taxes all corporate income of more than 6 per cent on declared valuation, and puts taxes ranging from 26 per cent to 98 per cent in individual incomes above $10,000, with much heavier taxes on lower incomes of either corporations or individuals.

This writer was among the first to suggest the principles of both these bills, but to no such radical extent as they are carried here.

The purpose of the new Neutrality Act is to see that we do not become involved in any war by reason of military or naval attempts to protect our foreign commerce, or by reason of having a money stake in either side in any war. The bill proposes to avoid protecting our commerce by surrendering it at the outset.

* * *

It would be enough to serve notice on our people that, if they want to engage in war trade, they must do so at their own risk.

As for the tax bill, it is one thing to take taxes on the profits due to war. It is quite another thing in war to tax away all profits. Ours is a profit system. It is profits that make industry go. In war, we need industry going at top speed.

A bill which says, in effect, "in war we abolish the capitalist and profits system" is a bill to adopt communism at the first gunfire of any war. It would paralyze production, utterly demoralize our economic system, and deprive us of the greatest element of our defensive strength.

It is even urged that these half-baked brain-pies be bum's rushed through the congress on the ground that war is near. If ever two doses of quack nostrum needed a thorough airing in debate, these are the two.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Noses . . . Noses. . . . Noses. . . . Fascinating items!

And a daily problem, if you can believe the cameramen, in the making of the movies. Because every actor has one—at least I've never met an actor without—and it's his fate to lose by a nose in the battle of the sexes for close-ups. There's just nothing anyone can do about it.

It crops up, this problem, every time a movie hero cops a kiss. The hero can be the star, and the heroine, or kissee, just a struggling kid two steps out of the chorus, but it's always the same. The kisser loses by a nose.

Actors generally have big noses or they wouldn't be actors. A small nose might be all right on a collarad but it wouldn't impress on the screen. When a prominent nose fights its way into close-up in a kissing scene it blots out the view of the kissee. This, of course, would never do. The kissee, whether she rates it or not, is dragged forth from behind that nose and brought into the light of the lens.

* * *

The rule holds for the most romantic noses in town. It holds for Flynn and Gable, for Taylor and Cagney, for Richard Greene and Tyrone Power—and the latter two noses are small as acting noses go. It holds even when Cagney's upturned nose is placed in competition to leading lady Jane Bryan's also tilted nose in the romantic interludes of "Each Dawn I Die." Cagney loses the close-up—by a nose.

And there are two probosci (oh well, noses) which never, never know romance. One belongs to Mr. W. C. Fields, the other to Mr. J. Durante. No, three—I've just remembered Basil Rathbone The Rathbone nose does not preclude a movie kiss entirely—but it certainly calls for the conventional treatment. Kissee gets the close-up, Kisser gets it in the neck

* * *

Director William McGann has learned about horses, even more than he knew before.

He was shooting on the Canejo horse-breeding farm of the E and W. Janss interests in Ventura county, making "Gantry the Great"

Gantry is the 15-year-old blind horse owned by Miss Eleanor Getzendaner of Des Plaines, Ill. Shipped west with Gantry, although not for the picture, was the owner's gray 17-year-old broad jumper, Suicide Gantry and Suicide are stablemates and their owner never separates them.

Just as McGann was starting his first scene a terrific commotion was heard in a nearby stall—as of a horse trying to kick his way through the solid plank walls A stableman came running

"Sorry, boss," he told the director. "Can't nothing be done about it 'cept take that blind Gantry horse and that gray over there and introduce 'em. You see that fellow in there making all the rumpus is Top Row, the old boy himself. And he don't like strange horses on the ranch unless he's met 'em."

McGann consented to the formalities—and it worked. Top Row, the great racer, went back to his oats, Gantry went back to the cameras, and Suicide back to sleep.

ELECT BRUNNER

Jersey Cattle Breeders Form Association, Pick Officers.

Henry G. Brunner, Ohio manager for the HOLC and operator of a large farm near Galion, last night was elected president of the newly-organized Jersey Cattle Breeders Association of Richland County.

Roy Downs of R. D. 3, Mansfield, was chosen vice president, and Otis Gray, R. D. 7, Mansfield, secretary-treasurer.

H. P. Paine of Shiloh and Ira Smith of R. D. 3, Mansfield, were named directors of the organization. A third director will be appointed later by the president.

Thirteen Jersey cattle breeders attended the organization session at the courthouse. Homer Bohl of Columbus, field man for the Ohio Jersey Creamline association, was the speaker.

WHENEVER vacation time is near at hand, news of Mansfield college students and their campus activities becomes quite prevalent. . . . Today marks the beginning of the spring recess at the College of Wooster . . . and so Margaret Maul, Margaret Hall, Raymond Hainer, Daniel Simon, Albert Allen and William Long are all arriving in town today to visit with their parents. . . . No doubt you recall that Margaret Maul has been chosen as an attendant of the May queen's court at the college. She's a junior at the school this year.

* * *

HELLO AND GOODBYE: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gorman and their son, Jimmy, have just returned from a six weeks' vacation out west. While there, they visited the Golden Gate exposition at San Francisco, Cal. . . . went down through Texas . . . and then stopped off at Grand Canyon and Boulder Dam . . . It was good to hear their comment concerning the supposedly bad western highways. . . . Mr. Gorman says they drove more than 6,500 miles, and contrary to general opinion, the roads were very good. . . . Mr. and Mrs. George B. Kirschbaum have just returned from their winter vacation too—they've spent the past two months in Florida. . . . Dr. Ada Ford entrained this morning for a southern vacation—she plans to be gone for a month—spending most of her time at Asheville, N. C.

* * *

JANE FOLTZ had quite an exciting time this week when she motored to Columbus on Wednesday to attend the 21st annual convention of the Ohio Music Study clubs . . . Jane is recording secretary of the Mansfield Music Study club . . . and this was her first convention—it was held at the Deshler-Wallick hotel, and John W. Bricker, governor of Ohio, was a guest of honor at the banquet that evening

* * *

Another Mansfielder who went to Columbus Wednesday was Mrs. I. W. Basinger. . . . She has been attending the Ohio Institute on Family Relations at Ohio State university there—as a representative of the Mansfield Council of Parent-Teacher association. . . . Mrs. Basinger—who is chairman of the parent education committee of the Mansfield council—will return home tonight.

HER school work and campus activities manage to keep Betty Wolfe busy at Ohio State university this year. . . . And so she's more than glad for her vacation this week. . . . Betty is a junior at the school and house president in her dormitory. . . . She's also an officer in a campus education club . . . and has been participating in a number of dramatic plays—the latest of these is George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." . . . Another Mansfield girl who attends school in Columbus is Jane Berkley—who has been enrolled at Bliss college there since January. . . . Jane was pledged to Eta Upsilon Gamma sorority at the college last week, and she plans to come home early next month—for her first visit here since January.

Shoup-McMillen Nuptials Revealed By Bride's Parents

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Shoup, 218 Lexington avenue, today announced the marriage of their daughter, Dorothy Geraldine, to Leroy H. McMillen. Mr. McMillen is the son of David L. McMillen, Lexington avenue.

The couple was married at Greenup, Ky., on March 18. Rev. Roy A. Hamilton, pastor of the First Baptist church there, performed the double ring ceremony at high noon.

The bride was attired in a street length frock of navy blue crepe with japonica accessories for her wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Shoup accompanied the couple to Greenup for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. McMillen attended Mansfield Senior high school, and Mr. McMillen is now employed at the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. The couple is at home in their apartment at 50 Vennum avenue.

Mahogany is the wood from the mahogany tree, naturally a reddish brown or cherry color. The deep red color so often associated with mahogany is the result of the use of a deep stain, which is being very little used on today's furniture.

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS CONDUCT DISCUSSION

Ohio State Students In Charge of Panel at Brinkerhoff Parent-Teacher Meet at School Last Evening.

"WHAT YOUTH THINKS" was the topic for a panel discussion yesterday evening when members of the Brinkerhoff Parent-Teacher association met at the school building. Mrs. Richard Hautzenroeder was hostess for the session.

Four Mansfield students, who attend Ohio State university, were the panel speakers. They were the Misses Sylvia Frankel and Barbara Beer, Robert Amsbaugh and Robert McCormick. Zane Wilson introduced the speakers and led the general discussion.

During the discussion of "What Youth Thinks," the student speakers talked on the subjects: success as a person in general, success as a person in school work, guidance of the pupil in the home and school, and relationship between parents and the teachers of their children.

Mr. McCormick, who is the assistant secretary of the Student Senate at Ohio State university, told of his work in that organization following the panel discussion. No date has been announced for the next meeting of the Parent-Teacher association of this school.

Hold Raemelton Gymkhana Tonight At Riding Hall

A SPIRIT of fun will rule the gymkhana show tonight at Raemelton Riding hall when Mansfield riders take part in the "jousts." The event is being planned by Raemelton Riding club, for members and their invited guests.

There will be nine events. One of the most interesting will be the women's equitation class, with Capt. Charles Ebert, of Troop A, Cavalry unit at Cleveland, as judge of the best rider. Those who will take part are Mrs. Thornton Moore and her sister, Mrs. Tom Ford, Miss Faye Chamberlain, Miss Mary Olive Hughes; and Miss Mariann Stander and her house guest, Miss Mary Elizabeth Wiseman who is a schoolmate of the Mansfield girl at Fairmont Junior College, Washington, D. C.

Then there will be an egg and spoon race, barrel race, lighted candle event, ring spearing, a doughnut "joust," potato race and a musical chair event and others.

Also of interest will be the introduction of "High Tone," Glenn Vinson's Tennessee walking horse, the first of its kind in this vicinity.

The committee in charge of arrangements is made up of Harvey Bailey, who serves as ringmaster tonight; Donald Black, Louis J. Ott, and William Weldon, jr. The program gets under way at 8.30 p. m.

NOW!- Thousands of Washing Machine Owners Are Changing To New High-Test Oxydol

The Amazing New Improved Soap for Whiter, Brighter Washes

WE WERE JUST MADE FOR EACH OTHER
OXYDOL
GRACE, I CAN'T BELIEVE IT! OUR WASHERS ARE JUST ALIKE AND YET YOUR CLOTHES COME SO MUCH WHITER THAN MINE.
THAT'S BECAUSE I'M USING THIS MARVELOUS NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL. IT GETS CLOTHES UP TO 25% WHITER THAN SOAPS WITHOUT ITS NEW INGREDIENT. WHY DON'T YOU TRY IT?
HALF HOUR LATER
GRACE SHOWED ME ALL ABOUT THIS AMAZING NEW SOAP... HIGH-TEST OXYDOL. MAKES UP TO TWICE THE SUDS. I SIMPLY HAD TO GET SOME AT THE STORE.
WHY DAUGHTER—WHAT'S THE EXCITEMENT?
IT CERTAINLY MAKES MOUNTAINS OF SUDS! BUT ARE YOU SURE IT'S SAFE FOR WASHABLE COLORS?
ABSOLUTELY! GRACE SHOWED ME PRINT DRESSES WASHED DOZENS OF TIMES IN NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL. YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN HOW BRIGHT THEY WERE!
FEW MINUTES LATER
WHY—THIS TOWEL'S SNOWY WHITE—AND THE WASHER'S RUN NO TIME AT ALL. NOW WE'VE FOUND NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL—THERE WON'T BE A WHITER WASH IN TOWN!
AND DID YOU SEE HOW MUCH FARTHER IT GOES? JUST THINK HOW WELL SAVE ON SOAP!
OXYDOL
YOUR DEALER HAS NEW HIGH-TEST OXYDOL

"NO WONDER EVERYONE'S RAVING ABOUT THIS NEW MIRACLE SOAP!"

NOW comes a new-type soap—to usher in a new day of whiter washes, cleaner and brighter clothes. A soap so utterly amazing that thousands of women have changed to it almost overnight!

Called new High-Test OXYDOL, it contains a remarkable new ingredient that combines whiter washing and SAFETY, in a way that scientists have been working on for years.

Due to this new ingredient, High-Test Oxydol does these astonishing things in independent laboratory tests against less efficient soaps:—

(1) Gets white clothes up to 25% whiter than even well-known, advertised soaps lacking this new ingredient. (2) Gives up to twice the suds—suds stand up 2 to 3 times longer.

Yet is so SAFE that even cotton prints, given the equivalent of more than a full year's normal washing, showed no perceptible sign of fading—stayed sparkling, bright.

Washing machine owners are thrilled with new High-Test Oxydol, for it soaks out dirt while the washer is running—gives double-action wash.

In tub washing—it soaks dirt loose in as little as 10 minutes. No scrubbing, no boiling.

TAXES POUR IN

Receipts Hit $320,000 With Deadline Week Away.

County Treasurer John E. Kolb was optimistic today as he counted the real estate tax receipts at $320,685 with just a week to go before the deadline for the first half payments.

"It looks good to me, and so do the conservancy tax collections," he said.

The conservancy receipts amounted to $11,404 including $8,615 in current payments and $2,789 in delinquencies. The treasurer liked the delinquent payments especially. They are the hardest to collect, he asserted.

Despite Kolb's optimism, County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe was a bit glum over the personal tax collections which totaled $25,908 today.

"Only a little more than half of the 5,000 accounts have been paid so far, and the deadline is April 1," he said. There will be no extension, he added.

CLEVELAND BOOKS HOOVER

CLEVELAND—(U.P.)—City Welfare Director Fred W. Ramsey today announced that former president Herbert Hoover will address the opening session of the 37th annual convention of the International Society of Christian Endeavor in Public Hall here the night of July 6.

"YOUNG MAN, I SAID WILSON'S CERTIFIED SMOKED HAM AND I MEANT IT!"
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE
WILSONS TENDER CERTIFIED HAM
Cook BEFORE EATING

"I insist upon Wilson's because we like smoked ham, cooked at home. It has that distinctive "smoky" flavor, yet it's as sweet as a butternut—tender and succulent. To be sure I'm getting WILSON'S Certified Smoked Ham, I look for the Orange Wrapper."

BAKED HAM RECIPE

To bake, ham should be at room temperature. No parboiling necessary. Place in roaster, fat side up. Add 1 cup gingerale or water. Bake at 325° to 350° F., allowing 16 min. per pound. When cooked, peel off skin, score fat, dot with cloves and sprinkle with brown sugar. Return to oven (400° F.) until brown, basting occasionally. Allow 19 min. per pound for half a ham.

TRY WILSON'S CERTIFIED BACON

The ideal blend for modern American tastes. Not too fat nor too lean. Just perfect for breakfast—with liver—for salads, sandwiches, etc. Comes in slabs (your dealer will slice it), or ready sliced in convenient ½ and 1-lb. cartons, cellophane rolls and layers.

"We'd both be lost without RITZ!"

THERE'S NO CRACKER IN THE WORLD THAT HELPS YOU IN SO MANY WAYS!

RITZ IS ALWAYS "CORRECT"—Serve Ritz any time! With beverages—with meals—for afternoon tea—at late supper parties. Here is the one cracker above all others that is never out of place.

RITZ IS ALWAYS POPULAR—It's America's favorite cracker. More people eat Ritz than they do any other cracker. They eat it with cheese—with soup and salad—with drinks and spreads. They eat it alone—and how they love it!

RITZ IS ALWAYS AT ITS BEST—It's always fresh and crunchy—always deliciously golden-brown. You never find a Ritz cracker "limp" or tasteless—even when you get down to the bottom of the package. A special baking secret protects its crackling freshness.

Load up with Ritz for the week-end Your food store has a fresh supply waiting for you.

VETERANS JOIN HUMANE ARMY; FIGHT DISEASE

500 Legionnaires in Chicago Establish Blood Doners' Unit in Crusade.

(By United Press)

CHICAGO—Five hundred men who enlisted in the fight "to make the world safe for democracy" 22 years ago, today are joining a more humane war — the battle against disease. These men, all members of the Cook county, Ill., American Legion, are organizing themselves into an army of blood donors to offer their blood when emergencies arise.

When the life of a man or woman or child hangs in the balance and a transfusion is necessary immediately the legionnaires will be available on short notice for a transfusion, according to Dr. Murray W. Sims of Chicago, medical officer of the Cook county legion, who is supervising the organization of the army of scientific benefactors.

Much Work Remains.

Dr. Murray said that the plan is not yet complete. The disease-fighting "soldiers" first must undergo tests to determine the classification on their blood, he explained.

When the examinations are finished, cards will be filled out with the name, address and telephone number of each potential donor, along with his blood type and any disease which he has had. These cards then will be made available to hospitals and private physicians throughout the Cook county area.

According to Dr. Sims, this is how the plan will work: A man suffering from pneumonia suddenly suffers a dangerous setback. He is losing strength fast, and a transfusion is necessary to save his life. The doctor or hospital attache hurriedly calls the legion headquarters and explains what type of blood he needs. The officer consults the file containing the names of donors and selects one or two whose blood is the type required.

The "soldier of science" is called, told where to go and he hastens to the hospital.

According to Dr. Sims, the army is being augmented every day by new volunteers. However, he explained that it probably will be nearly a year before the program of organized blood donating will be in full working order. He added that the plan is being pushed forward as quickly as possible and that it will be in partial operation soon.

The organization of the army is drawing the comments of physicians throughout the Cook county area. They described the plan as "long needed and worthwhile." All admitted that it will be a boon to Cook county doctors in the unending battle against disease.

NEW COIN-SLOT DISPATCHER SENDS HAND-WRITTEN MESSAGES

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)—Philadelphians soon may be able to send hand-written messages by telegraph through the recently-developed "slot-machine" dispatcher, says F. R. Veale, Western Union supervisor here.

It's all very simple, according to Veale. You write a message, drop it in a streamlined "mail box contrivance"—and then pay the attendant. The last part is important, he says.

When perfected for popular use, a coin-slot will be attached. After the message is sent a light will appear, reading "25 cents, please," or etc. If you don't pay, the message remains in the telegraph office.

One of the machines—hailed as the world's first automatic telegraph—is now in operation in New York—minus a coin slot.

Actual working of the machine, explained Veale, is along the lines of "telephotos" sent by newspapers. It takes two minutes for a regulation-size blank to be transmitted.

The original is scanned by an "electric eye" which generates impulses received in the central telegraph office on special paper. The paper changes color to bring out the writing as the electric stylus passes over it, the supervisor continued.

Veale predicted that general use of the machine would lower telegraph rates, increase business and aid unemployment. First "slot-machine" boxes will be placed in corridors of large buildings, he believes.

HUGE PROJECT

Engineers Lay Groundwork for Big Water Power Job.

VANCOUVER, B. C. — (INS) — British Columbia government engineers are laying the groundwork for a net of huge water power projects to boom industrial expansion and strengthen defense against military attack on western Canada, they revealed recently. Plans call for development of more than 4,000,000 new horsepower in rivers and lakes of the province. The power plants would be provided with methods of defense against military attack.

There are geological indications that at three different times the seas now covered the land that is Texas.

STRANGE CYCLE

Three In Family Die At Age 81 At Same Time of Day.

SACRAMENTO, Cal. — (INS) — The recent death in Santa Rosa of Mrs. Sidney M. Pyle, mother of the late C. C. (Cash and Carry) Pyle, Los Angeles promoter who staged the "bunion derbies" a decade ago, completed a strange 28-year cycle of coincidents in her family.

She, her husband and her parents each died at the age of 81. They died at intervals of seven years apart. Each death, strangely, occurred at 6:10 a. m. on a Sunday.

Dr. Frank P. Graham, President of the University of North Caroline, is a vigorous advocate of federal aid to the states to equalize educational opportunities.
